Prof. E. R. Seligman To Have Charge of Work Conducted for Purpose of Evolving New Plan.

RASKOB EXPLAINS
BELIEF ON FEE

Smith To Confer With George and Hull in Next Few Days; Other Leaders To Attend.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.
New York, August 6.—(United News.)—Democratic leaders have abandoned the recently announced
intention to draft a definite farm relief
plan for submission to the voters.

This was revealed tonight in the announcement by Chairman John J. Raskob, of the national committee that he has requested Professor E. R. Seligman, of Columbia university, widely known economist, to make an intensive survey of the agricultural problem which Raskob said would "require many weeks if not months of hard work." Raskob recently announced he would direct drafting of a plan to be submitted during the campaign.

Formal Statement.
The national chairman, in a formal statement, also took exception to published reports that he "saw nothing economically unsound in the equalization fee." He reiterated that he has not committed himself to any farm relief plan, adding he still has "an open mind" on the equalization fee. Governor Alfred E. Smith, democratic presidential candidate, rejected the McNary-Haugen bill and the equalization fee as a form of farm relief for other day, but said he favors farm relief based on the principle that the cost of marketing surplus crops be borne by the community benefited, which is the underlying principle of the equalization fee.

Raskob's sympathetic reaction to presentation of the equalization fee principle by George N. Peek, chairman of the so-called corn belt committee, gave rise to reports he looked favorably on the fee principle, though he made clear at that time he had not committed himself to any farm relief plan.

Inquiries Conducted.
Raskob said tonight in answer to an inquiry he did not know a joint investigation of the McNary-Haugen bill
and been made by the United States Chamber of Commerce and the national industrial conference board.

"I should be quoted as saying I made nothing economically unsound in the equalization fee," Raskob said in his statement. "I had no opinion on the subject; that I had never even read the McNary-Haugen bill or equalization scheme so could have no opinion on it."
"I further stated there is no question in my mind but that the chaotic marketing will result in higher prices to the farmers for their crops. Beyond this I expressed no opinion on the farm situation."

Seligman Is Asked.
Raskob said he had called Seligman today on long distance telephone at Lake Placid, N. Y., to ask him to undertake the survey, Seligman and he are "warm personal friends, and I regard him as one of the foremost economists of the world," Raskob added.

The professor made an installment survey for the General Motors company recently.
"I do not know his politics," Raskob explained. "This study will be in no sense a political study. It is purely economic and on account of its magnitude will require many weeks, if not months, of hard work."
"There can be no question but that the farmers' problems can be solved along lines that are economically sound;
that orderly instead of chaotic marketing and intelligent, businesslike control of surplus crops will all tend to give the farmer higher prices for his crops and this increased purchasing power will result in greater prosperity for industry and people in all walks of life."

"This result must be accomplished without artificially fixing or controlling prices and the cost should be borne by the crops benefited—not by the government."
"Our industries pay high wages in order to maintain the high and happy standards of living we have adopted."

ATLANTA MAN'S SISTER IS FOUND DEAD IN ALABAMA

Montgomery, Ala., August 6.—(AP)
Mrs. H. Smythe, 55, registered at a local hotel in Mobile, Ala., where she was found dead in her room when employees disregarded a "do not enter" sign and forced entrance.
Death is believed to have resulted from poison and a verdict of suicide was rendered by the coroner. He estimated the woman had been dead 14 hours when found.

Before taking the fatal drug the woman addressed a note to the hotel management requesting that two brothers, Frank P. Hall, of Atlanta, Ga., and J. C. Hall, of San Antonio, Texas, be notified. Mrs. Smythe registered at the hotel Saturday night.

FLORIDA COAST ITALIAN SUBMARINE SINKS IN OCEAN CRASH; TRAPPED CREW TAPS SIGNALS FOR HELP

ATLANTA CITY HALL
WILL BE ERECTED
AT $840,700 COST

Contract for 15-Story Municipal Building Awarded by Council to National Construction Co.

By unanimous vote, city council
Monday afternoon awarded the contract to erect the superstructure of Atlanta's new 15-story city hall, at Washington and Mitchell streets, to the National Construction company for $840,700.

Members of the aldermanic board concurred in council's action and the paper will go to Mayor J. N. Ragsdale for his signature this morning.
It was freely predicted that he would approve the award today since it was the mayor, Councilman Howard C.
McCutcheon, of the second ward,
chairman of the special city hall committee of city council; Councilman Wiley L. Moore, of the seventh ward, chairman of the finance committee of council, and B. Graham West, city controller, who devised the financing plan by which the structure will be erected.

Actual work on the project will be started within the next few days
and predictions were that the building will be ready for occupancy within a year. Only details incident to actual signing of the contract remain to be cleared up after the mayor formally approves the award.

Mr. McCutcheon offered the resolution at the contract figure of $840, 700. This provides for a completed unit, including elevators and other equipment with the exception of desks, safes and other fixtures which it is estimated will cost approximately $200,000.

"I want to say that the city hall committee is pleased to see the approval of this body this contract, which is about $214,300 less than first estimate of Mr. G. Lloyd Preacher, architect, and other officials," Mr.
McCutcheon said in offering the resolution.

"We feel that the contract is a good one, and that the city will get an adequate city hall, roomy enough to meet its requirements. We, therefore, have recommended award of the contract to the lowest bidder, the National Construction company."

The paper was passed without a discussion in both organizations.
Prior to offering the resolution proposed for award of the contract for erection of the city hall, Councilman
Moore presented a paper which

TONS OF POWDER EXPLODE ON SHIP

Members of Crew Jump Overboard and Escape; City of Tacoma Near Scene; Windows Broken.

Tacoma, Wash., August 6.—(AP)— Twelve tons of powder exploded on the powder boat La Blanca in the narrow water of Tacoma tonight following a fire on the boat. All members of the crew escaped.

The terrific detonation shattered windows in all parts of Tacoma.
The La Blanca was transporting the powder from the plant of the Du-Pont de Nemours company at DuPont, 17 miles south of Tacoma, to Kennedy, near Seattle. When the fire broke out the crew fought it unsuccessfully for awhile and then leaped into the water and swam to the nearby shore.

The explosion hurled the cabin of the craft 65 feet into the air and it landed on the bluffs above the menbers of the crew as they scrambled from the water.

Woman Files Love Suit As Ex-Mate Is Buried

WIFE NO. 1 ASKS NO. 2 FOR $2,000,000

Indianapolis, August 6.—(AP)—
While funeral services for James A.
Allison, Indianapolis capitalist, were being held here today, a suit was filed in superior court by Sara C.
Allison, his divorced wife, against Lucille Mussett Allison, his second wife, asking damages of $2,000,000. Allegation of Allison's affections was charged.

Allison was married July 29 to Lucille Mussett, of Miami, Fla., at the Long Island home of Carl G. Fisher, his associate in the founding of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and in extensive real estate developments in Florida. Following the marriage they

FIVE-YEAR LOVE AFFAIR IS BARED

Husband Is Unaware of Secret Romance Until
He Finds Body on Bed
When He Returns Home.

Los Angeles, August 6.—(AP)—Leo
P. Kelly, 29-year-old "butcher boy"
in a romance with Mrs. Myrtle L.
Mellus, 41, was formally charged with the murder of the wealthy woman in a complaint issued today by the district attorney's office.

Charges were filed after a man and woman described as prominent hotel officials who they knew of the romance of Mrs. Mellus.

While the identity of the couple was guaranteed by police, Kelly was held in a cell near by. Frank Mellus, prominent club man, sportsman and manufacturer, husband of the wealthy society matron, said Kelly long had been their "guest" at their home.
His brain still fogged, officers said,
with liquor drunk before and after Sunday's tragedy, Kelly repeated his denials of guilt. He had gone to Mrs.
Mellus' home while her husband was on a fishing excursion. Breakfast over and the negro maid permitted to leave, he said, and a heavy blow from his fist landed on her forehead. Kelly related, but said he did not kill her.

Mrs. Mellus' body, stripped of the blue pajamas which she said she wore at breakfast with Kelly, was found on her bed by Mellus when he returned home. A heavy blow from an empty bottle had caused death, while her body was covered with welts and bruises.

An hour after police had swarmed into the fashionable residence Kelly was found. Officers heard him breath-

CHATHAM LEADER ASSAILS MADDOX

"Inaction of State Committee," Suggested as Hindrance to Party's Campaign in Georgia.

Savannah, Ga., August 6.—(AP)— David S. Atkinson, chairman of the Chatham county democratic executive committee, today made public the text of a letter he had addressed to G. Ed Maddox, chairman of the state executive committee of the party, asserting that "we do not think our committee is doing its full duty by the national ticket."

Mr. Atkinson's letter, which was in reply to a letter recently sent by Maddox to the various county chairmen asking them to make suggestions regarding the campaign, expressed the belief that there was strong opposition to the national ticket in Chatham county. "We feel the opposition is largely due to the inaction
of the state committee and its tendency to excuse the candidacy of Governor Smith," said Atkinson.

"You ask us to write fully and frankly just what our committee
thinks of the situation," the letter said. "Frankly, we state that we do not think your committee is doing its full duty by the national ticket. We do not think that the head of the party in Georgia should feel that he has to make excuses for the national ticket in his letter to the executive committees of the various counties,
as you do in your letter of July 25."

"We feel that if your committee
can not conscientiously give Governor Smith your wholehearted support, you should turn the handling of the campaign over to some person or persons who can support the national ticket."

ONE DEAD, SCORE ILL AFTER SOCIETY BARBECUE LUNCH

Redwood City, Calif., August 6.— (United News.)—Mrs. Zella Arendt, of Berkeley, died today and more than a score of persons were ill as the result of ptomaine poisoning believed to have been suffered at a fashionable country club barbecue.
A post-mortem examination disclosed that Mrs. Arendt's death resulted from the poisoning. An investigation was started today and to find out who furnished food at a barbecue Saturday night at the Emerald Lake Country club, where food was eaten by all of those who became ill.

Nassau in Bahamas Is

SHIPPING KEEPS
INSIDE HARBORS

Barometers Fall; Miami
and Palm Beach Have Brief Scare as Early Reports Are Published.

Shipping Is Warned
By Weather Bureau

Washington, August 6.—(AP)—
The following advisory storm warning was issued tonight by the weather bureau.

The tropical disturbance is central on latitude 25, longitude 78 and is moving north, northwestward. It is small in diameter but of considerable intensity and caution is advised for vessels off the east Florida coast north of Miami.
Storm warnings are displayed between Miami and Titusville.

Miami, Fla., August 6.—(AP)—The tropical storm which raged about Nassau in the Bahamas islands today is believed by the local weather bureau
to have recurred to the north or northeast with no further danger of gales
on the lower east coast of Florida.

The weather bureau's location of the center of the tropical disturbance
on latitude 25, longitude 78, places
it about 40 miles west of Nassau, capital of the Bahamas, and approximately 175 miles east-southeast of Miami.
Uninhabited Island.

This conforms with radio advices from Nassau today which said the storm center was expected to pass southwest of the island of New Providence on which Nassau is located. The position indicated is off the tip of Andros Island, which virtually is uninhabited.

Should the center continue northwestward it probably will miss the Florida coast and pass into the Atlantic after crossing Great Ba-hama and parts of the Abaco islands
east of Palm Beach.

Small craft still hold to harbors
with warnings displayed north to Titusville.

Until this afternoon the center of the storm was reported moving west-northwest with gale warnings out along the whole coast from Key West to West Palm Beach.

Nassau Undamaged.
A severe blow was reported from Nassau but no damage was indicated.
Vessels in the harbor instead of the harbor after receiving warnings and said to be riding well through a northeast gale that increased in intensity
throughout the afternoon and evening.
The weather bureau there expressed the belief that the storm center passed to the southwest of the island about midnight. Heavy rains drenched the islands.

Richard W. Gray, meteorologist of the weather bureau here, issued the following bulletin:
"Late reports from the Bahama islands and from the Tropical Radio station at Hialeah, Fla., and other conditions at Miami indicate that the tropical storm has recurred toward the north or northeast and there is no further danger of high winds on the lower east coast of Florida."

A. B. CATES HURT IN CRASH OF CAR NEAR BUFORD, GA.

A. B. Cates, president of the Adams-Cates Realty company, received a badly fractured right arm early Monday night, and Mrs. Cates suffered slight laceration and bruises when their automobile overturned, about two miles north of Buford.

Their 2-year-old baby daughter and the nurse also were in the automobile
at the time of the accident, but miraculously escaped injury. Mr. and Mrs. Cates were taken to Wesley Memorial hospital following the accident and at a late hour Monday night were reported as resting easily. No details of the accident could be learned, except that the automobile skidded and overturned.

RADITCH DEATH REPORTS CAUSE CROWDS TO GATHER

Vienna, August 6.—(AP)—Dispatches
from Zagreb tonight said that an unfounded rumor that Stefan Raditch, Croatian peasant party leader, had died from the wounds received in the shooting affray in parliament, had drawn thousands of excited townsfolk
of both sexes to his villa.

Hundreds of persons remained outside their leader's home day and night awaiting reports from the sickbed, as they have during the last five days.
Specialists have been summoned from Vienna and Munich.

COUNCIL ACCEPTS
MEMORIAL PARK
FORTY-ACRE STRIP

Land Given to City Will Make New Recreational Grounds Largest Owned
by Atlanta.

City council Monday afternoon accepted by unanimous vote another 40-acre strip of land extending on both sides of Peachtree creek from North Side drive to Howell Mill road, and thus wrote another chapter in establishment of Peachtree Battle Memorial park to commemorate the great battle of Peachtree creek.

The land was contributed free of any cost to the city by Hoke Smith,
former governor and senator; J. W.
Bedell, prominent Atlantan and real estate operator, and the children of the late Evan P. Howell.

In accepting the tender Monday city council brought the total acreage of Peachtree Battle Memorial park to 189 acres. This makes the new park larger than either Grant or Piedmont parks, which contain, respectively, 149
and 185 acres.

There is no prettier park property anywhere in the country than that which was given to the city Monday in this contribution. A portion of it is heavily wooded and another section is beautiful meadow land. It is easily adaptable for the use for which it is to be converted and for which it must be utilized under the terms of the deeds which City Attorney James L. Mayson was instructed to prepare. The only stipulation in the deeds was that it be used forever
as a park.

It was along Peachtree creek and on the very strip which council was given in the tender Monday that some of the hardest fighting of the battle of Peachtree creek occurred. Even P.
Sexton Smith conveyed a tract
which he owns between Peachtree Battle avenue and Peachtree creek on the east side of Howell Mill road, and

'Dead,' Man Is Found Ill In Hospital

Insurance Company Locates Policyholder After Nine Years' Search.

Baltimore, Md., August 6.—(AP)—
William J. Botto, who had been missing for nine years and had been declared legally dead by Virginia courts,
was located today in a hospital here,
where he is being treated for serious burns. Botto, who was known also as Richard Barro, was at one time a member of the Richmond, Va., police department.

Decision that he was legally dead
was made in a suit instituted by his wife in Richmond against the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, which was ordered to pay a $1,000 life insurance policy with about $200 in interest, after she testified she had last seen her husband June 5, 1919.
The order was affirmed by the Virginia court of appeals.

A search through many cities by an inspector for the company ended when Baltimore police took him to Botto's bedside at hospital. Botto, burned last week in what police said was explosion of a still, told the inspector he had not caused anybody to notify his wife that he was dead, and wanted his friends in Richmond to know that he was alive.

Botto said he had left Richmond
because of trouble at home and had lived in several cities since that time.
He now owns a grocery and restaurant here.

New York, August 6.—(AP)—Captain
Frank T. Courtney and the three men with whom he cheated death after their seaplane "Whale" had crashed afire in mid-ocean, reached New York today on the liner which picked them off the floating wreck of their aircraft.

It was a nonchalant crew which stepped off the city tug Macon at the

Walker at city hall, and drove up Broadway through hurrying crowds
to the hotel where they will stay while

Workman Pays $1,535
Interest on $76 Loan

Month after month, year after year,
since 1910, an elderly negro workman has plodded into a salary buyer's office here, depositing in 30-day renewals $1,535.00 on an advance which began at $5 and crept up to $76 as the years went by.

This is the story recited to attorneys by Will Earl, of 961 Division street, negro employee of the Southern railroad, and this will be charged today in municipal court when suit is filed to recover for the workman the total payments alleged to have been made to P. P. Jackson, Atlanta salary buyer.

In his petition Earl says that the buyer threatened to reveal the transaction to the Southern railroad, which would automatically have dismissed
the negro under a company rule against assignment of salaries by employees.

The fear of losing his job and his inability to pay the principal impelled Earl to renew the assignment,
month on month, from January 2, 1910, to March 17, 1928, the negro replied.

Earl says he was not allowed to partially reduce the original advance,
and found that necessity drove him to increase the amount from time to time.

A statement detailing the 18-year transaction shows monthly payments
as high as $5 on a $20 assignment,
finally reaching, in January of 1925,
a $10 payment on the $76 debt.
Between January of 1910 and March of this year Earl swears he missed no single month in paying for his renewal.

The petition contends that the transactions throughout were, in effect, loans at a usurious rate of interest; that the contract under which the collections were made is voided
by state laws prescribing interest rates on loans under $300.

While ordinarily the limitation of a writ of habeas corpus in a civil action, attorneys for the plaintiff will contend that a special statutory rule provision in the Georgia code extends the time limit to 20 years in certain instances.

The suit has been prepared by Attorney J. L. R. Boyd, acting for the Junior Chamber of Commerce. This organization has directed a stubborn fight against alleged "loan sharks" of the city. The case is typical of numerous others on file in municipal and superior courts against salary buying and loan agencies here.

City Fathers Leave Traffic Law Unsolved

Recorders Differ on Construction and Council Fails To Give Aid.

Atlanta motorists today face the same dual construction of traffic laws which held before city council's meeting Monday afternoon.

That body declined to pass a recommendation of the police committee permitting vehicles to turn to the right
at "stop" boulevards after coming to a complete stop and then making the turn at a speed not exceeding eight miles an hour, and sent the paper back for a joint recommendation of the police and the traffic committee of council.

Alderman J. Charles Murphy, chairman of the police committee, offered an amendment to traffic laws which was intended to harmonize the conflicting rulings of Atlanta's two recorders.

He failed when council declined to approve a plan whereby all vehicles

17 HOURS ELAPSE
AS RESCUE WORK
GETS UNDER WAY

Destroyer Strikes F-14 in Adriatic Sea During Maneuvers; Vessel Goes Down Immediately.

PLANES LOCATE SUNKEN CRAFT

Hope Is Held That Air
Can Be Pumped to Men
If Raising Work Is Delayed Much Longer.

Rome, August 6.—(AP)—The crew of the Italian submarine F-14 tonight
lay in the crippled craft 131 feet below
the surface of the Adriatic, to which they were plunged by collision with the destroyer Giuseppe Missori early this morning.

Although the submarine sank immediately after the crash, members of its crew carried on communication with the fleet above, which indicated that at least some of them were alive
and that the bulkheads still kept back
the waters.

Weather Unfavorable.
Rescue apparatus was at hand and it was hoped that fresh air might be pumped into the submarine should raising it be delayed. The weather was none too favorable for salvage tonight.

The submarine was struck by the prow of the destroyer when it suddenly emerged on the surface during an attack maneuver with the fleet.
Airmen located it and observers in one, through the advantage of altitude in peering into the ocean depths,
believed that they sighted the F-14

2 SERIOUSLY HURT IN CROSSING CRASH

Marietta, Ga., August 6.—(Special.)—Webb Weehunt and E. Chumbley, two young Cobb county men, were probably fatally injured late Monday when their automobile was struck and demolished by a northbound Louisville and Nashville passenger train at a downtown street crossing. Both were taken to local hospitals where physicians expressed the opinion their injuries would result in death. According to the crossing watchman, he had displayed his warning stop-sign at the approach of the oncoming train, but he declared that the young men already were proceeding across the tracks and had apparently cleared them when their car suddenly began to reverse and started back across the tracks. Try to Escape. Both of the occupants, the watchman stated, frantically attempted to get out of the car which backed directly into the path of the locomotive, which was traveling at an estimated speed of about 25 miles an hour. The small car was demolished after having been ploughed ahead of the engine for about 75 yards. When the two men were extricated from the wrecked automobile Weehunt seemingly was not badly hurt, as witnesses said he staggered to his feet and walked for a few seconds, following which he collapsed. Chumbley had an eye torn from its socket, skull fractured and was badly hurt about the body. Weehunt lives at Jonesville, near the outskirts of Marietta. He is married and has several children. Little is known locally of Chumbley.

Students Recall University Days Of John Slater

Athens, Ga., August 6.—(P)—Many University of Georgia contemporaries of John R. Slater, young democratic presidential campaign manager for Georgia, recall the Douglas attorney as one of those rare students best known by that filmy term of "all-around," and again they take it that Al's pilot in this state is a mediator of the first water.

For John R. Slater was president of the first student council the university knew. Through its trying days of experimental vagaries, when the council was endeavoring against volumes of student prejudice to establish government of, for and by the student, Slater never lost faith in the ideal represented by the group he headed, his intimate friends and associates revered. Democratic tendencies recognized when Slater was picked as the man behind the big gun in the drive for Al were no less conspicuous then, it was pointed out. Retained from the world war to complete his legal education at Lumpkin law school, the young man proceeded to compile a brilliant average in the university and as well found time to take a hand in varying walks of student activity, records show. Slater's capabilities won him election to the Sphinx club, regarded as the supreme local student club, the Gridiron club and other organizations banded to recognize merit. He took a leading part in the affairs of his fraternity, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and appeared to advantage in the university's ancient and honored literary society, Phi Kappa, founded well over 100 years ago. By unanimous consent, John R. Slater left his name written high at the University of Georgia.

LAST RITES ARE HELD FOR MRS. MONTGOMERY

The body of Mrs. Mary Law Montgomery, of 54 Park lane, N. E., well known Atlanta woman, who died Sunday at a private hospital, was taken Monday to Waltham, S. C., for funeral services and interment. Mrs. Montgomery was a native of Belfast, Ireland, but came to this country while a girl, with her parents. Her father was a prominent Presbyterian minister who served pastorates in Florida and South Carolina. Since her father's death about 12 years ago Mrs. Montgomery had made her home in Atlanta with her brother, John Gordon Law, who is her only immediate survivor. She was well known in musical circles and was an accomplished musician.

More Storms To Ease Heat In City Today

With the sun's rays tempered by heavy clouds that filled the sky all day, Atlanta Monday secured a comfortable respite from the hot wave of several days previous. Temperatures varied between 69 and 86 degrees and a heavy rain storm just after noon kept the mercury lower than it has been for several days. The low mark of 69, which was registered in the early hours of the morning, is unusual, officials at the weather bureau said, and was caused by sudden winds that rose after the thunderstorms of Sunday. The outlook for Tuesday continues favorable, and temperatures are expected to range between 70 and 85 degrees. Thunder storms are probable throughout the day, it was reported.

MARRIED 42 YEARS, WIFE ASKS COURT TO GRANT DIVORCE

After 42 years of wedded life, Mrs. Annie Evans, of Carey Park, has sued her husband, H. S. Evans, for divorce and alimony, charging cruelty and desertion. The husband says they have lived together since 1886, only deciding to separate several weeks ago. Mrs. Evans asks a total divorce and alimony. The husband has retained Attorney Len B. Guillebeau to plead his case, set for Saturday before Judge John D. Humphries in superior court.

THOUSANDS VISIT CHEVROLET PLANT

With Mayor Ragsdale acting as official host to the citizens of Atlanta and of the entire southern district, the vast assembly plant of Chevrolet Motor company on Sawtell avenue was thrown open to the public Monday afternoon. Count of the visitors who inspected the marvel of modern manufacturing genius after the plant had been formally opened by L. S. Costley, Chevrolet regional manager, and by the mayor, showed that more than 5,000 people attended the two opening exhibition periods Monday afternoon and night.

The plant will continue open to the adult public today and Wednesday between 9 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 7 to 9 o'clock at night. Visitors will be allowed to watch the assembly lines in action and the factory actually engaged in turning out new machines at the rate of one every minute and a half.

Every convenience has been arranged for the comfort of the company's guests while they are touring the plant. A large parking space accommodating 5,000 cars will be at the service of motorists. In addition, there will be special attendants to care for the children whose parents are in the factory, children not being admitted to the plant.

There also will be special orchestra music for the visitor's entertainment, and a moving picture reel will be shown. Persons who tour the building enter at the main entrance of the Chevrolet plant, and continue down the assembly lines to the rear. They then go through the Fisher body plant and leave through the employees' entrance.

Although this is the first time the public has been given an inside glimpse of the modern automobile plant at work, the work of the building has been going on at a regular schedule for three months. Because of the slowness of deliveries in this section when the Atlanta plant was first built, it was not thought advisable to slow up the employees' work by setting aside a part of the day for exhibition purposes. Now, however, with the work well up to date, the company welcomes the inspection of all who are interested.

Officials of the Atlanta plant have gone to a great amount of trouble in placing shrubbery and other beautifying features about the plant. They also have taken pains to make the visit to the plant as enjoyable as possible. It is expected that the large crowds of local and out-of-town visitors who were present Monday will continue throughout Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mayor Ragsdale, in commenting upon the opening of the new plant, said:

"Atlanta and all the south today join in welcoming to the south the Chevrolet Motor company and all that this great organization stands for."

"This growing city, the industrial capital of the south, takes pride in greeting Chevrolet as a southern institution and hastens to wish it the hearty success in this section that has attended its activities in all other quarters of the world."

"We have a deep appreciation of what the Chevrolet plant means to Atlanta and the position of industrial prominence that the south is attaining and we feel confident that Atlanta and the south will mean even more to Chevrolet in the future as a result of its decision to locate in this community."

"We note with considerable satisfaction that Chevrolet has chosen to give preference to southern labor and is employing local workmen almost exclusively. Southern workmen are the equal of any in the world and naturally we are gratified at Chevrolet's recognition of the fact."

ROTARIANS TO HEAR FORMER RUSS NOBLE

Pierre Porokovichkoff, former member of the high court of Russia, and high commissioner of the court to England, will speak at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club Tuesday afternoon at 12:30 in the Capital City club. The subject will be "Bolshevism and Fascism." The speaker, having been connected with the former Russian nobility, was barred from the country when Russia went bolshevist. Hal Hentz, chairman of entertainment for August, has arranged the program.

UPKEEP heaviest tax of all!

UPKEEP is the home-owner's heaviest tax. Unnecessary repairs and replacements, together with needlessly large fuel bills and high insurance, mean an average waste of $145 a year for every home in the land.

Build with concrete and save this expense. Concrete is permanent. It actually improves with age. It requires no paint. It never has to be replaced. Repairs are few. Depreciation negligible. In addition, concrete is fireproof, sanitary and adaptable to most architectural treatments.

For best results use good aggregate, just enough mixing water*—and insist upon Lone Star Cement. Before you buy your cement, ask the Building Material Dealer these four questions—the same questions engineers, architects and contractors ask when they buy cement. We give you the Lone Star answers.

1. Does the Cement exceed U. S. Government standards?
Every shipment of Lone Star Cement is guaranteed in writing to exceed U. S. Government standards. The Lone Star dealer, in turn, guarantees every bag to you.
2. How is the cement made?
Lone Star Cement is made by the famous International Wet-Blending Process, a process which has made cement-making an exact science and has established a new high standard of cement quality.
3. Is the cement uniform, bag for bag?
The chemical content of Lone Star Cement varies less than 2/10 of 1% in millions of bags—a new high standard of uniformity.
4. Are you certain to get delivery when wanted?
The 13 mills of the International System, with a capacity of 20 million barrels a year, assure "on-time" delivery, no matter how great the emergency.

It will pay you to buy cement on the basis of this comparison. Concrete will save you money. Lone Star concrete will save you more.

SAENZ ASKS FACTION TO SUPPORT CALLES

Mexico City, August 6.—(AP)—Araon Saenz, governor of Nueva Leon and a close friend and supporter of General Alvaro Obregon, issued a statement today announcing that the Centro Director Obregonista, the political organization charged with conducting the Obregon campaign, would be disbanded as it was unnecessary that it should continue to function. He appealed to all revolutionists to present a solid front in support of President Calles.

Governor Saenz hoped that congress would assume the responsibility of the present historical moment acting according to the Obregon program and that Calles prestige as a revolutionist might help settle the situation.

NET WEIGHT SALES URGED FOR COTTON

Adoption of a resolution urging that cotton be sold by net instead of gross weight, and discussion of the use of cotton instead of jute bagging for cotton bales featured a meeting of the cotton states agricultural commissioners Monday at the Henry Grady hotel.

Addresses were made by commissioners from five southern states. William A. Graham, commissioner from South Carolina, discussed the use of cotton in place of jute bagging which must be imported from India.

The use of jute bagging or any other material not made of cotton furnishes an excuse for deducting from each bale of cotton a certain number of pounds called tare," said Mr. Graham. "If farmers will use cotton they will save about $30,000,000. The cotton raiser penalizes himself 7 pounds every time he wraps cotton in jute bagging."

S. Odenheimer, president of the Lane Cotton Mills company, of New Orleans, pointing out that the south has a virtual monopoly in cotton, suggested that cotton growers' associations be governed by a central organization insofar as the price basis of the staple is concerned. This price, he suggested, would govern all cotton growers' organizations during a period of time to be determined by the central body.

A resolution offered by Harry D. Wilson, of Louisiana, president of the organization, was adopted. The resolution read: "The cotton states agricultural commissioners, in session at the Henry Grady hotel, Monday, August 6, recommend and urge that cotton be sold by net weight instead of gross weight and insofar as possible to establish net weight for cotton."

Commissioners present at the meeting included Harry D. Wilson, of Baton Rouge, president; Eugene Talmadge, of Georgia, secretary; William A. Graham, of South Carolina; J. W. Moore, of Alabama; George S. Harris, representing the Textile Institute; S. Odenheimer, of New Orleans, were also present.

SENATOR HARRISON CLAIMS HIS STATE WILL GO FOR SMITH

Mississippi, in common with other southern states, will poll traditional majorities for the democratic national candidate, is the belief of Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, who stopped over in Atlanta Monday for a brief conference with party leaders while en route to New York.

Senator Harrison, long a recognized power in national politics, will assist in the management of Governor Smith's campaign. The senator also was confident of a democratic victory in the north and west.

Earl S. Wightman, acting general manager of the Georgia Cash Credit corporation, has left for Asbury Park, N. J., to attend the regular quarterly congress of the executives of the National Cash Credit association and subsidiary corporations, of which the Georgia corporation is one of the younger units.

One of the topics to be discussed at the congress will be contemplated expansion of the business of the Georgia corporation. The sessions will be held August 9 and 10. Mr. Wightman makes his headquarters in the Palmer building.

Perfect health is refreshing

If you are tired—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S. Its tonic effects will surprise you.

WHEN your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you wake in the morning.

Instead, you feel refreshed; ready to meet the world!

Your appetite is keen, you enjoy work or play. Your skin is clear—checks naturally rosy.

All this because rich, red blood is Nature's substance for building and sustaining the body.

Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S.S.S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—thru the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did."

Student Over-Controls Plane on First Flight

BY DON BROWN.
(Copyright, 1928, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Newark-Elizabeth Airport, August 6.—"Go easy; take it easy!" the instructor yelled back through the earphones. "You're not driving a truck! Move the stick just a little at a time and ease the ship around the turns. Keep your nose up. Now your left wing is too low. No; don't try to jerk it back, ease it back. Try to be rhythmic!"

For thirty minutes today I practiced turns at 3,000 feet while "Bill" Hughes, my instructor, corrected my faults through the new earphone attachment with tubes leading from a transmitter in his hand to receivers in my helmet.

It was a one-sided conversation and the remarks I heard about the terrific clatter of the motor and the shriek of the wind were not all flattering. But I didn't feel like arguing.

Earphones are a great help in training. I think I learned more in 30 minutes today than I did in an hour and a half without the phones.

Before this the only means of communication from the instructor in the front cockpit back to me was by little jerks on the dual control system or by his cutting off the motor to yell something back at me. Generally I couldn't understand because of the shrill screaming of the wind through the wires and struts of the plane.

Like Novice Automobile Driver. Just as a person learning to drive an automobile nervously jerks the wheel from one side to the other too quickly, I over-controlled the plane. I had a vague idea that an aviator wrestles with the control stick and that flying in some way resembles an athletic contest. This is not true. With the plane we are flying it is possible to control most of the time with three fingers on the stick.

The danger of over-controlling an air plane is much greater because there are so many directions in which it may move or drift. You can steer it sideways, to the left or right, or up and down, also in every possible combination of these directions. The air is not a stable element either and at 90 miles an hour or so, you are continually running into "bumps" or new up, down or lateral currents which cause the plane to drop, buck or slide out of its course.

When you are just starting to fly, as I am, and don't know what you're doing three-fourths of the time anyhow, it is pretty disconcerting to have the plane drop 50 or 100 feet and feel yourself slammed against the seat. A constant, sensitive changing of the positions of the control stick and rudder bars is necessary. There are calm days when the plane almost "flies itself" but in my first two weeks of training I haven't been lucky enough to meet one.

Fine Scenery—No Time to See It. There is no time for day-dreaming or even enjoying the scenery. As the plane banked over steeply and we made a turn, I could see for an instant out of the corner of my eye beautiful, hazy, may-like landscapes with clouds floating over them and below us. The next instant I realized with a nervous jerk that the plane had banked too steeply to that side and I must move the stick over to try to pull it back before we slipped off and plunged into a sideslip just like an automobile running off a steep embankment.

I've had not quite two hours in the air yet. Except for the fact that other people have learned and I know that if they did, I can, I would be discouraged. Also, the instructor said today:

"I've never learned much the first two hours. It takes you that long to get accustomed enough to the feeling of being in the air to begin to learn something."

"After five or six hours, you'll begin to get the hang of the thing so well that you'll feel like a veteran. Then, if you are like many students, you'll get over-confident and be in more danger than you are now."

Tomorrow I will tell what happened to the instructor, who, while riding in the front cockpit, high in the air, turned over the controls to his pupil in the rear cockpit, and then, when the plane wobbled into a dive, turned around and saw that his pupil was missing!

Brunswick Man Commits Suicide On Father's Grave

Brunswick, Ga., August 6.—(Special.)—Orcus C. Johannesen, 50, walked into Oak Grove cemetery late this afternoon and standing at the grave of his father, the late Captain Otto Johannesen, placed a revolver to his temple and fired. He fell across the grave dead.

The act was witnessed only by a negro who was at work in the cemetery, and who, though not expecting the rash act, was looking directly at the man when he ended his life.

Mr. Johannesen, who had been a resident of Brunswick practically all of his life and was well known, had been in bad health for several years, and his act this afternoon was possibly attributable to his ill health.

He is survived only by his mother.

STATE INSPECTION FORCES PLAN WAR ON MALTA FEVER

Reports of contagious abortion, or Malta fever in sections of Georgia has caused the state forces of cattle inspection to institute tests in every section for signs of the pestilence. Dr. J. M. Sutton, head of the department, announced Monday.

"We are adopting the best known means of eliminating the disease in this state," Dr. Sutton said, "and that is by getting onto the field and by inspection, eliminating the reactive cattle. This process means an actual saving to the dairyman, for by the loss of a few head of cattle, possibly, he is making the remainder of his herd safe from contagion."

HASSELL PLANS HOP TO SWEDEN WITHIN A WEEK

Rockford, Ill., August 6.—(AP)—A new attempt to fly from Rockford to Stockholm, Sweden, may be made by Bert Hassell in the plane in every section for signs of the pestilence.

The plane, wrecked near here shortly after Hassell took off for Sweden two weeks ago, was to be returned to Rockford this week from the factory, where it has been rebuilt. The southward march of the sun, shortening each day the span of daylight over the north Atlantic, makes an early departure imperative and the pilot hopes to hop off within a few days after the plane is received.

Another stop for refueling at Cochrane, Ontario, has been added to Hassell's itinerary, which includes stops in Greenland and Iceland.

TED COY WEDS MISS LOTTIE BRUNN, OF EL PASO, TEXAS

El Paso, Texas, August 6.—(AP)—Ted Coy, the former Yale football star, who was divorced in Chicago recently by Miss Jeanne Egels, the stage star, was en route to the Pacific coast today with a new bride. He married Miss Lottie Brunn, of El Paso, here last night, and the couple plan to make this their home.

Miss Egels, who starred in "Rain," testified in her divorce suit that Coy had brought griddon tactics into the household on at least one occasion, and she carried a black eye for a few days as a result.

CANADIAN PASSENGER STEAMER IS ON ROCKS

Duluth, Minn., August 6.—(AP)—The Canadian passenger steamer Huronic was aground on Lucile island, on the north shore of Lake Superior, this morning. Wireless messages received by the Radio Corporation of America indicated that the passengers and crew were not in danger but that the ship was hard on the rocks.

The tug Champlin was on its way from Port Arthur to assist the ship, whose position was given as just west of Pigeon river, the Canadian-United States boundary. The coast guard cutter Crawford also left Two Harbors, Minn., for the scene.

The Huronic was damaged above the waterline, radio messages said, but the damage was not considered serious. She left Duluth yesterday bound for Detroit via Port Arthur.

DALLAS LEADS U. S. IN POSTAL INCREASE

Washington, August 6.—(AP)—Dallas, Texas, with a gain of 15.25 per cent led the 50 selected cities in increase of postal receipts during the month of July. Total receipts for the country were $26,507,678, a gain of .79 per cent over the month of June.

Other cities showing large increases were Minneapolis, Minn., 12.30; Syracuse, N. Y., 11.56; Newark, N. J., 10.72; and New Haven, Conn., 10.26 per cent.

Southern cities which showed gains were Memphis, Tenn., 8.84 per cent; Nashville, Tenn., 8.08; Atlanta, Ga., 3.83; New Orleans, La., 1.98; Houston, Texas, 1.94; and Richmond, Va., 1.20. Decreases were shown by Louisville, Ky., of 11.79, and Jacksonville, Fla., 6.25 per cent.

EX-SENATOR URGES SOLID PARTY FAITH

Gainesville, Ala., August 6.—(Special.)—Hon. John Rogers, former Alabama senator, and one of the strongest political factors in this section of the state, has written a letter to Hon. Will P. Aldrich, of Alabama, in which he discussed most interestingly the obligation of democratic loyalty to the national nominees of the party.

Mr. Aldrich wrote to Senator Rogers asking his views, as he had confidence in him as a democratic leader. Senator Rogers replied as follows:

Primary Obligation.
"In reply to the question as to whether one is bound to vote the democratic ticket, I have to say that this depends on the value one puts on his obligations, spoken, written or implied."

"The voter who took part in the primary election of May 8 to select delegates to the national convention entered into an obligation to abide by the result. Those who are now bolting are in the same position you and I would have been had we bolted the party because Will Gutter (we both voted for him) was defeated for delegate. To do this never occurred to either of us, but had we done so what do you suppose those bolting now would have thought and said to us. The real test of manhood is to live as close to his losing contract as to his winning one."

"What sense is there in going into an agreement with a man who will not abide by the agreement if he loses, but expects to do so if he wins. In this kind of a deal you have everything to lose and nothing to gain, and the other fellow nothing to lose and everything to gain. This is exactly the position of the bolters. They said 'we will go to Houston and beat Al Smith if we can, and if we beat him we expect all democrats to stand by us, but if we can't beat Al in Houston we will take another shot at him in November. We will desert the democrats and join the republicans.'"

"The democrats have the best chance to win since 1912. They will carry 10 states known as the solid south. Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas, 114 votes. New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Massachusetts, and New Hampshire, total 97. Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, 46, a grand total of 257, more than are needed to nominate. It has a far better chance to carry Wisconsin, Illinois, West Virginia, New Mexico and Oklahoma than the republicans. It may turn out to be a landslide for the democrats, or of course it can go the other way, but we shall not lose any of the solid south."

1928 COTTON CROP IN SOUTH GEORGIA TO BE FAIR YIELD

Valdosta, Ga., August 6.—South Georgia is preparing to begin handling the 1928 cotton crop, of which it appears there will be a very fair yield. Reports in general are to the effect that, despite the rainy season, the boll weevil damage is at least no more than the average. However, in at least some sections it is stated that insects have done comparatively little damage.

PROTEST PROPOSAL TO HIKE FREIGHT RATES IN FLORIDA

Objection to a proposed revision of railroad freight rates between Pacific coast points and points in Florida south of the main line of the Seaboard railway from River Junction to Jacksonville was raised before the Southern Freight association Monday.

The revisions, said E. E. Bryan, of the standing rate committee of the association which heard the objections, would be certain figures higher than rates from the same origin to Jacksonville.

Objections were raised by Theodore T. Turnbull, representing the Florida railroad commission; E. J. Cogrove, Jr., representing several Tampa produce dealers; John A. O'Rourke, representing Thomas E. Grady company, industrial traffic managers; E. L. Hurt of the Atlanta freight bureau appeared to ask that he be kept informed of developments in the case. The rate committee is considering the case, Mr. Bryan said.

State Democratic Drive Headquarters Are Opened

JOHN R. SLATER

State democratic campaign headquarters were established in the Piedmont hotel Monday with the arrival of John R. Slater, of Douglas, state campaign manager. An aggressive campaign in behalf of the national nominees and against the republican standard bearers will be waged throughout the state between now and election day in November, it was announced.

Mr. Slater is one of the best known business men in the state and took charge of headquarters with much enthusiasm.

"I am happy to serve under the old standard, the successor to the stars and bars as the God-given plowshare standard and the hope of the stars and stripes, and I do pledge to democracy my untiring efforts toward a campaign in Georgia worthy of the traditions and achievements of the party," Mr. Slater said. "I only hope the leadership in this campaign will be such as to take advantage of the opportunity to strengthen our party through the character of its service."

The headquarters are located in rooms 321, 323 and 324. One of the rooms will be used by Mr. Slater while another will be used by Frank Berry, of Atlanta, financial director of the campaign.

Furniture, desks, typewriters and other office supplies to be used in the office were donated by the Ivan Allen-Marshall company of Atlanta. A beautiful suite of offices has been fitted and equipped for the campaign.

It is the purpose of the state campaign headquarters to wage an aggressive fight for the democratic nominees which will be carried to every precinct in the state, according to the statement of the managers.

WOLCOTT FAMILY TO HOLD REUNION IN HARTFORD, CONN.

The descendants of Henry Wolcott will hold their annual family reunion in Buffalo, on August 7, 8, and 9 with headquarters at the Statler hotel.

Henry Wolcott came to America a few years after the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers and settled in Hartford, Conn. His descendants are scattered all over the country, one of them, Charles W. Wolcott, being an Atlantan. All members of this family are invited to attend the reunion.

COACH STEGEMAN LEAVES HOSPITAL AFTER AUTO CRASH

Wilmington, N. C., August 6.—(AP) H. J. Stegeman, athletic director at University of Georgia, who was injured in an automobile accident here yesterday, left the hospital after receiving first aid treatment for minor injuries, hospital officials said today.

Mr. and Mrs. Stegeman and their two children were in their automobile when it collided with another car.

LOUISIANA REFUSES TO RETURN DAWSEY

The governor of Louisiana has declined to honor a requisition for return from Jennings, La., of Aubrey Lee Dawsey, magazine salesman, wanted here under an indictment charging him with kidnapping his own son, according to notification reaching the solicitor's office Monday afternoon.

Early this spring Mrs. Dawsey reported that her estranged husband spirited 3-year-old Aubrey, Jr., from the mother's residence, evidently leaving Georgia with him.

Saturday Mrs. Dawsey obtained a superior court order to place Dawsey under a $300 bond not to leave Georgia, should he be returned.

In declining to permit Dawsey's return, the Louisiana executive gave as his reason the fact that Mrs. Dawsey only held temporary custody of the child under a Louisiana court order.

Mrs. Dawsey's suit for divorce, custody of the child and alimony is pending in superior court.

GEORGIA'S FIRST 1928 BALE GROWN NEAR MOULTRIE

Savannah, Ga., August 6.—(AP) The first bale of Georgia cotton for the 1928-1929 season is on its way to Savannah and should reach here in the morning by express from Moultrie. It was grown by E. F. Bishop, near Moultrie, and weighs 375 pounds. Its grade is not known. The bale will be received by Harry White, cotton broker, from Cliff Ingram, of Moultrie. The bale will be sold at auction during Tuesday. P. D. Daffin, oldest member of the cotton exchange and chairman of Savannah's park and tree commission, likely will be the auctioneer. He auctioned off last year's first Georgia bale, which brought 70 cents a pound.

DIVISION OF D. A. V. WILL MEET TONIGHT

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the local division of D. A. V. will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Ansley hotel. The newly appointed committees to serve through the year will be announced. L. S. Bellinger, local commander, will preside.

RIVERS ADDRESSES FAIRBURN CITIZENS

Fairburn, Ga., August 6.—(Special.) State Senator E. D. Rivers delivered his scheduled address before a gathering of local citizens at the courthouse here today. The candidate for governor repeated his recent criticism of the Hardman administration declaring it to be "incompetent" and "factless."

Indian Springs Camp Meeting Opens Thursday

Thousands Are Expected To Attend During 1928 Revival Meetings on Historic Camp Grounds.

Jackson, Ga., August 6.—(Special.) The thirty-sixth annual session of the Indian Springs Holiness camp meeting will begin Thursday, August 9, and extend through August 19, and all indications at this time point to a highly successful and profitable meeting.

Owners of the cottages are moving in for the season, reservations at the hotels are being booked and the active workers will begin to arrive the first of the week. The grounds and buildings have been placed in first-class condition and the officers and trustees expect the usual large crowds.

Leaders of this year's assembly include: Dr. H. C. Morrison, of Louisville, Ky.; Rev. Joseph H. Smith, of Redlands, Calif.; Rev. C. H. Babcock, of Los Angeles, Calif.; and Hamp Sewell, of Atlanta, as leader of music. Rev. J. M. Glenn, of Young Harris, will have charge of the young people's hour, and the Mackay sisters will assist with the singing.

Wednesday, August 15, will be observed as Baitis county day, and Thursday, August 16, will be known as Transfiguring day.

The following daily schedule, central time, will be observed:

At 6 a. m., prayer meetings at the tabernacle; 7:15, breakfast; 8:15, school of the prophets; 8:30, young people's hour; 9:30, song service; 11, preaching; 1 p. m., dinner; 3, preaching; 4:30, children's service; 6, supper; 6:45, vespertine meeting; 7:30, song service; 8, preaching.

LANCASTER FREED ON $20,000 BOND FROM FULTON JAIL

Carl M. Lancaster, Atlanta attorney, under 10-to-20-year sentence on a statutory charge, made $20,000 bond from Fulton tower August 2, it was learned Monday when the paper was returned for file in superior court.

Trial Judge E. D. Thomas fixed the bond several weeks ago, after Lancaster had been in the tower since January, but the defendant had been apparently unable to raise the amount.

Judge Thomas fixed a $15,000 bond under the conviction, while five additional $1,000 bonds were pending against the lawyer on as many indictments made subsequent to the trial on representations of several women. Lancaster is understood to have left the city. Meanwhile an appeal from his conviction is pending in the supreme court of Georgia.

20 CARS OF STEEL FURNITURE BOUGHT

Twenty carloads of steel office furniture, the largest single installation in the south and one of the largest in the entire country, has been ordered for the new office building of the Southern Railway here. The order was placed in Washington through Foote & Davies company, of Atlanta, representatives for this territory of the General Fireproofing company, of Youngstown, after the leading makes of steel office furniture had been exhibited to the purchasers and bids compared.

Included in the installation will be more than one thousand steel desks of various models, several hundred filing cabinets and two carloads of steel shelving, etc.

Within the next few weeks the Southern will bring to Atlanta about 1,200 employees and their families, transferring a large part of the general offices of the company here from Washington. A new seven-story building is being erected to house the new offices, which will be an important addition to the group of transportation buildings in the Terminal station district.

United States Senator Kenneth McKellar plied up a commanding majority over his opponent for renomination, Representative Finis J. Garrett, in the Tennessee democratic primary.

ATLANTAN WINNER OF INSURANCE HONOR

James E. Williams, Atlanta agent of the Travelers Insurance company, of Hartford, Conn., has received word from the home office that he is one of few agents in the United States and Canada to qualify this year for membership in the Life Producers club.

Mr. Williams was also a member of the club in 1925-6-7. The weekly publication of the Travelers company will feature an announcement of Mr. Williams' qualification.

LAKE JUNALUSKA YOUNG METHODISTS TO HOLD CONTEST

Lake Junaluska, N. C., August 6.—(AP)—Ten young men and women orators, winners in their respective Methodist conferences east of the Mississippi river, will compete here August 9 and 10 in the nation-wide "Know Missions" contest.

Miss Jeanne Davis, of Brunswick, Ga., representing the south Georgia conference, is among the ten who will compete for places in the east-west finals at Nashville, Tenn., and substantial cash prizes.

THE LAST OF FACTION.

Since the days, almost a century ago, of Troup and Clarke, Georgia has known no factional political fight which has approached in intensity of feeling or divergence of opposing lines, that between the forces of Hoke Smith and Joseph M. Brown. Twenty years ago the man who would have predicted a time when the Smith and Brown factions would unite in common defense against an insidious danger
would have been regarded as a dreamer.

Yet today, with practically all other leaders of political thought in the state, these two towering figures stand side by side, voicing the same clarion call for party loyalty, urging democrats to remember the heritage of their party and to stand firm against the threatened disruption of the party in the south's Empire State. They do not dread
the appearance of another party which comes open handed for a fair fight along party lines. But they see the danger of the dagger
from within, and its use by so-called democrats to knife the party.
Decades ago the state was torn by the rival factions of Troup and Clarke. That breach was healed only when the grave silenced the voices of protagonists in either side.

Today, as bigotry and intolerance voice vain threats against Georgia's political heritage, it is inspiring to read the clear calls of men who have differed on minor issues, but who stand united in support of the principles for which our fathers fought to save this state
from ruin in the days of reconstruction,
and that has since held her true to her mission.

Former Governor Brown expresses the views of true democrats from every county in Georgia
when he says "Individual prejudices should be laid aside at this critical juncture in the life of the democratic party, and every voter who calls himself a democrat should repudiate at the polls in November
the suggestion that Georgia is not true to its glorious history."

And that, in substance, is the position of Senator Smith and every other state leader of democracy.

AN INTERESTING INSTITUTE.

There will be going on for these two weeks, at the University of Virginia, the second annual session of the "Institute of Public Affairs." The purpose of the institute is to "advance the popular understanding of current public questions." Eminent expert directors and students of such public affairs are induced to discuss current problems in special addresses, papers and round table talks.

The institute is sponsored by the officials of the university, of the state, and by a large advisory board composed of some thirty of the foremost public leaders of the nation. Among them are Governor Byrd, James M. Cox, John W.
Davis, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler,
Glenn Frank, John Hays Hammond,
Mrs. Medill McCormick and Mabel Walker Willebrandt.

This presidential year is a most opportune one for bringing together men and women of all sections and public sentiments to discuss many problems now demanding the study and action of publicists and statesmen.

The forum is a perfectly free and non-partisan one. When one gets up to speak the great music audi-

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Carry Out
Orders.

There are humorous as well as grim
sides to the civil war in China. One
of the amusing stories concerns a railroad engineer's trick on an excitable
general. The driver of a troop train
standing in a station on a single line
was asked by the military officer in charge to proceed, despite the fact that
he knew that there was a passenger
train coming in the opposite direction.
The driver at first refused, but as the
officer threatened to shoot him if he disobeyed, he conceived the idea of
starting the train with the air brakes
applied. Naturally this resulted in much noise and grinding of the brake
blocks on the wheels. Demanding an explanation, the officer was told that
the train could not start because the
leading engine of the passenger train
was on the same line. He would go back and order them to distribute
themselves evenly in the cars, the train
would no doubt be able to start.

Later on in the session Hon.
Evans Woollen, lately Indiana's
candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, will deliver a
formal address on "Is There a Genuine Agricultural Problem?"
He will be followed by Congressman Dickinson, farm blocker from Iowa, who has regrettably shed his
egalitarian fee complex and is now
"all for Hoover." It will be interesting to get the viewpoints of
these representative men of the
major parties.

Then there is to be a featured
address on "The Solid South—Its Cause? Its Future?" by Mrs. Sarah
Lee Fain, of Norfolk, who is a notable member of the lower house of the Virginia general assembly. The
talented lady will, doubtless, make
an illuminating exposition of her
theme, but that duplex conundrum
has an easy and final answer. The cause of the solid south is the enfranchisement negro and the future of
the solid south is that it will stay
solid as long as the negro is represented of the republican party in the south.

Professor William E. Dodd, professor of history at Chicago university, is to speak on "The South
at the Parting of the Ways." This has been discussed variously by
very cocksure persons, politicians
and empirics, for the last forty
years and more. During all that time the south has steadily passed
all the cross-roads up the line and
kept in the middle of the straight
road of white supremacy, local
home rule, and fidelity to the faiths
of its fathers.

The south has done well on that road and is now forging ahead with
increased speed and success in all
those departments of her life that
make for prosperity, power and national influence.

Among other delectable dishes on
the menu is an address by Ex-Governor Nellie Tayloe Ross, of Wyoming, on "Is Prohibition a Party
Issue?" As Mrs. Ross is an Al
Smith boomer and has been chosen
to head the women voters' bureau
of the democratic national committee, it ought not to bother her to
answer that question in the imperative affirmative. In fact, Governor
Smith answered it for her and for
the whole nation in his statement
on the eve of the Houston convention, and his reiteration after his nomination.

Many other salient subjects will
be discussed by eminent authorities and the institute will certainly
be a wonderfully intriguing affair.
The attendance promises to be unusually large and will embrace notable persons from all sections of
the union.

Our idea of a sinecure is to raise
a $4,000,000 republican campaign
fund.

Why not take the poison gas out
of politics, too?

A republican took the prohibition
joke out of the movies and the republicans are putting it into politics.

And another thing: the prohibition camel can drink enough now
to last him through the campaign.

Naturally the secretary of the interior is interested in what goes
into folks.

A south Georgia man posted a reward for the return of his automobile which had been stolen. A policeman found it in an upholstery
shop being recovered. Who gets
the reward for recovering it?

Thanksgiving day ought to be moved down to November 7 this
year.

We now have a fifteen-sided peace alliance, which hardly puts
it on the square.

How Southern Democrats Rewarded the Superb Democracy of General Hancock

Washington, D. C., August 6.—(Special.) The course of a nation's campaign politicians and writers
for the press often
make some queer
statements. I have just been correcting
some current errors
concerning the
situation, and why the "Solid South" has existed
in our national politics ever since the discovery of 1860.
Two-party contests
took form.

But now comes
the St. Louis Post-Dispatch rebelling
against the "Solid South" by predict-
ing that the south
will not vote for a Catholic and a wet
and for proof of southern party loyalty,
records that in 1860 "the south cast
a solid democratic vote for General Hancock." Hancock was a hero of the battle of Gettysburg on the union side.

That reads real funny to this writer
who lived in Louisiana while General
Hancock was military commander of
the fifth district set up by the republican congress, composed of the unstatehood commonwealths of Louisiana and Texas; and who was present in the democratic national convention of 1860 and 1868—and nearly all of them since!

It should interest the Post-Dispatch
and any others who are short of political history, to have their attention
called to the fact that most of the leading members of the union army
were democrats. Without effort one can recall such names as Grant, Hancock, Thomas, McCallan,
and many others. The democrats were
the majority in the union army, and
the remaining five or six foreign nationalities. Thus sixty per cent of the folk who maintain the
most important and profitable hotel and restaurant industry of France are foreigners, a proportion that is hardly
likely to be changed in any other country. If there is a land which should welcome visitors it is obviously France, seeing the amount of tourists who come to it. It will be interesting to get the viewpoints of
these representative men of the
major parties.

TOURIST WEALTH.

That section of Frenchmen, perhaps
far more noisy than numerous, which seizes every opportunity to indulge in nasty references to foreign visitors to France would do well to meditate over
a table of statistics by the London
Times that has just been published.
This reveals that out of every hundred persons who make excursions into
the different regions of France, forty
per cent are French, ten British, ten Germans, fifteen North Americans,
twenty Spaniards or South Americans,
and the remaining five or six foreign
nationalities. Thus sixty per cent of the folk who maintain the
most important and profitable hotel and
restaurant industry of France are foreigners, a proportion that is hardly
likely to be changed in any other
country. If there is a land which
should welcome visitors it is obviously France, seeing the amount of
tourists who come to it. It will be interesting to get the viewpoints of
these representative men of the
major parties.

"A Gallant Gentleman."

When the tragic story of the air-
ship Italia is told in detail no man
will receive more honor than that of Professor Finn Malmgren, whose
choice of death rather than a burden
on his companions stands out as
the greatest act of heroism and self-
sacrifice in polar regions since Captain Oates walked out to die in the
blizzard during Scott's expedition.
Malmgren's story will go down in the annals of arctic heroism. Despite his wounds, his injuries, his pain, he lowered into it. He refused to take any food, insisting that his comrades
needed it. To Zappi he gave a pocket
knife, and to the others he gave his
mother in Sweden if he survived.

Former Watson Leader Comes Out Strong For Governor Smith

Editor Constitution: Our Georgia
fellow citizens in their zeal for the prohibition law and the Protestant
church are liable to overlook a few facts in our history. Please give me
space to set forth some of them here.

In 1864, Lincoln found it necessary
to pass the conscription act, which
took the place of the soldiers Lee was killing. This was resisted in New York city by hundreds of thousands of men. The conscription act followed
which hundreds were killed, and one
hundred million dollars of property
was destroyed. The participants in this riot were Irish, who were likely to fight, sympathized with the south, because they (the Irish) were rebels against themselves. Lincoln
had to send thousands of troops to New York, as the governor and state authorities could not handle it.

After the war was over these people stood between us and our political enemies, for the reason that they looked on the south as a kind of Ireland. They were Irish, who were like-

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

Carry Out
Orders.

There are humorous as well as grim
sides to the civil war in China. One
of the amusing stories concerns a rail-
road engineer's trick on an excitable
general. The driver of a troop train
standing in a station on a single line
was asked by the military officer in
charge to proceed, despite the fact that
he knew that there was a passenger
train coming in the opposite direction.
The driver at first refused, but as the
officer threatened to shoot him if he
disobeyed, he conceived the idea of
starting the train with the air brakes
applied. Naturally this resulted in
much noise and grinding of the brake
blocks on the wheels. Demanding an explanation, the officer was told that
the train could not start because the
leading engine of the passenger train
was on the same line. He would go
back and order them to distribute
themselves evenly in the cars, the train
would no doubt be able to start.

Later on in the session Hon.
Evans Woollen, lately Indiana's
candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, will deliver a
formal address on "Is There a Genuine Agricultural Problem?"
He will be followed by Congress-
man Dickinson, farm blocker from Iowa, who has regrettably shed his
egalitarian fee complex and is now
"all for Hoover." It will be interesting to get the viewpoints of
these representative men of the
major parties.

Then there is to be a featured
address on "The Solid South—Its Cause? Its Future?" by Mrs. Sarah
Lee Fain, of Norfolk, who is a notable member of the lower house of
the Virginia general assembly. The
talented lady will, doubtless, make
an illuminating exposition of her
theme, but that duplex conundrum
has an easy and final answer. The cause of the solid south is the en-
franchisement negro and the future of
the solid south is that it will stay
solid as long as the negro is represented of the republican party in the south.

Professor William E. Dodd, professor of history at Chicago university, is to speak on "The South
at the Parting of the Ways." This
has been discussed variously by
very cocksure persons, politicians
and empirics, for the last forty
years and more. During all that
time the south has steadily passed
all the cross-roads up the line and
kept in the middle of the straight
road of white supremacy, local
home rule, and fidelity to the faiths
of its fathers.

The south has done well on that
road and is now forging ahead with
increased speed and success in all
those departments of her life that
make for prosperity, power and national influence.

Among other delectable dishes on
the menu is an address by Ex-Governor Nellie Tayloe Ross, of Wyom-
ing, on "Is Prohibition a Party
Issue?" As Mrs. Ross is an Al
Smith boomer and has been chosen
to head the women voters' bureau
of the democratic national committee, it ought not to bother her to
answer that question in the imperative affirmative. In fact, Governor
Smith answered it for her and for
the whole nation in his statement
on the eve of the Houston convention, and his reiteration after his
nomination.

Many other salient subjects will
be discussed by eminent authorities and the institute will certainly
be a wonderfully intriguing affair.
The attendance promises to be un-
usually large and will embrace notable persons from all sections of
the union.

Our idea of a sinecure is to raise
a $4,000,000 republican campaign
fund.

Why not take the poison gas out
of politics, too?

A republican took the prohibition
joke out of the movies and the republicans are putting it into politics.

And another thing: the prohibition camel can drink enough now
to last him through the campaign.

Naturally the secretary of the
interior is interested in what goes
into folks.

A south Georgia man posted a
reward for the return of his automobile which had been stolen. A
policeman found it in an upholstery
shop being recovered. Who gets
the reward for recovering it?

Thanksgiving day ought to be
moved down to November 7 this
year.

it on the square.

How Southern Democrats Rewarded the
Superb Democracy of General Hancock

Washington, D. C., August 6.—(Special.) The course of a nation's campaign politicians and writers
for the press often
make some queer
statements. I have just been correcting
some current errors
concerning the
situation, and why the "Solid South" has existed
in our national politics ever since the
discovery of 1860.
Two-party contests
took form.

But now comes
the St. Louis Post-
Dispatch rebelling
against the "Solid South" by predict-
ing that the south
will not vote for a Catholic and a wet
and for proof of southern party loyalty,
records that in 1860 "the south cast
a solid democratic vote for General
Hancock." Hancock was a hero of the battle of Gettysburg on the union side.

That reads real funny to this writer
who lived in Louisiana while General
Hancock was military commander of
the fifth district set up by the republican congress, composed of the
unstatehood commonwealths of Louisiana and Texas; and who was present in the democratic national convention of 1860 and 1868—and nearly
all of them since!

It should interest the Post-Dispatch
and any others who are short of political history, to have their attention
called to the fact that most of the
leading members of the union army
were democrats. Without effort one can recall such names as Grant, Hancock, Thomas, McCallan,
and many others. The democrats were
the majority in the union army, and
the remaining five or six foreign
nationalities. Thus sixty per cent of the folk who maintain the
most important and profitable hotel and
restaurant industry of France are foreigners, a proportion that is hardly
likely to be changed in any other
country. If there is a land which
should welcome visitors it is obviously France, seeing the amount of
tourists who come to it. It will be interesting to get the viewpoints of
these representative men of the
major parties.

TOURIST WEALTH.

That section of Frenchmen, perhaps
far more noisy than numerous, which
seizes every opportunity to indulge in
nasty references to foreign visitors to France would do well to meditate over
a table of statistics by the London
Times that has just been published.
This reveals that out of every hundred persons who make excursions into
the different regions of France, forty
per cent are French, ten British, ten
Germans, fifteen North Americans,
twenty Spaniards or South Americans,
and the remaining five or six foreign
nationalities. Thus sixty per cent of the folk who maintain the
most important and profitable hotel and
restaurant industry of France are foreigners, a proportion that is hardly
likely to be changed in any other
country. If there is a land which
should welcome visitors it is obviously France, seeing the amount of
tourists who come to it. It will be interesting to get the viewpoints of
these representative men of the
major parties.

"A Gallant Gentleman."

When the tragic story of the air-
ship Italia is told in detail no man
will receive more honor than that of Professor Finn Malmgren, whose
choice of death rather than a burden
on his companions stands out as
the greatest act of heroism and self-
sacrifice in polar regions since Captain Oates walked out to die in the
blizzard during Scott's expedition.
Malmgren's story will go down in the annals of arctic heroism. Despite his wounds, his injuries, his pain, he
lowered into it. He refused to take
any food, insisting that his comrades
needed it. To Zappi he gave a pocket
knife, and to the others he gave his
mother in Sweden if he survived.

Former Watson Leader Comes Out Strong For Governor Smith

Editor Constitution: Our Georgia
fellow citizens in their zeal for the
prohibition law and the Protestant
church are liable to overlook a few
facts in our history. Please give me
space to set forth some of them here.

In 1864, Lincoln found it necessary
to pass the conscription act, which
took the place of the soldiers Lee was
killing. This was resisted in New York city by hundreds of thousands
of men. The conscription act followed
which hundreds were killed, and one
hundred million dollars of property
was destroyed. The participants in this riot were Irish, who were likely to fight, sympathized with the
south, because they (the Irish) were
rebels against themselves. Lincoln
had to send thousands of troops to New York, as the governor and state authorities could not handle it.

After the war was over these people stood between us and our political enemies, for the reason that they
looked on the south as a kind of Ireland. They were Irish, who were like-

BLACKMER'S FATE HINGES ON CHARGE

Paris, August 6.—(P)—Whether the "perjury" charged against Henry M. Blackmer, missing Teapot Dome witness in the French or American brand, promises to be the determining factor in settling the request of the United States for his extradition.

Mr. Blackmer was indicted in the federal district of Colorado on charges of making false income tax returns. Untrue income declarations are punishable by heavy fines in France but perjury, as such, has been generally interpreted here to apply only to bearing false witness in court, and under oath.

Hinges on Interpretation.

French legal circles are not certain that the listing of perjury as an extraditable offense in the Franco-American treaty means that American interpretation of the word is to be the determining factor in deciding whether persons accused of perjury are to be delivered to authorities of the United States. Local legal experts think there is a decided doubt as to whether a false income tax return is an extraditable matter under this treaty.

The case is being considered by the legal bureau of the foreign office. That department goes over all extradition requests to determine whether they are tainted with political motives, and also whether there is a presumptive legal reason for demanding the extradition.

Five Judges on Court.
If the decision on this question is in favor of the nation requesting the extradition, the papers are forwarded to the ministry of justice which passes upon the case in its general aspects and then refers it to a court of five judges.

Blackmer's contention, according to his friends, is that he is wanted in the United States more for the sake of the Teapot Dome oil investigation than to answer to the charges respecting his income tax returns. He maintains that he came to France in the first place on a holiday before the Teapot Dome investigation was under way, that he did not make the journey in order to avoid testifying in that case, and that he decided to remain here only after agitation over his departure became acute.

ANTI-SMITH ROW FLAMES IN TEXAS

Dallas, Texas, August 6.—(P)—The anti-Smith row has broken out in state circles again with indications that the showdown for those who oppose the presidential candidacy of the New York governor will come at the state democratic convention here September 11.

The threat of a party split, which has flared and simmered since the Houston convention, assumed importance again Saturday when harmony did not prevail at county conventions in the state's three most thickly populated counties, Dallas, Harris and Tarrant.

Opposing state convention delegations, one favoring endorsement of the ticket from the president down, the other asserting the right of the individual democrat to follow his conscience, were named in these counties. This three eventual settlement of the issue upon the credentials committee of the state democratic convention.

The chief barrage of a day of conventions was laid out at the scene of Governor Alfred E. Smith's nomination, when factional differences culminated in a fist fight which precipitated a riot call to quiet the 200 men and women delegates.

The outbreak came when W. W. Smith, Jr., a Smith man, and Alvin S. Moody, an anti-Smith leader, spurred by differences of opinion regarding the presidential nominee, engaged in personalities. The lie was passed when Moody accused the other of previous membership in the Klan.

The Smith element dominated, and a resolution pledging support down the line from "president to constable" was shot through.

INDICTED NIGHT CLUB OFFENDERS FREED ON BAIL

New York, August 6.—(P)—Service of a bench warrant issued today for the arrest of Helen Morgan, actress and night club hostess, was held in abeyance of the promise of her attorney that he would produce her in federal court tomorrow.

Warrants for Miss Morgan and about 65 others, including Nils T. Granlund, radio announcer station WJLN and master ceremonies of the Frivoli club, were issued when they failed to appear today to answer indictments charging them with conspiracy to violate the Volstead law and maintaining nuisances. J. Arthur Adler, counsel for the group, agreed to sleepers then into court before Friday, and service of the warrants was held up.

Texas Guinan, hostess at the Salon Royale, and Loretta McDermott, hostess at a club named for her, appeared with two scores of other persons of the 138 indicted last week. The hostesses were released in $100 bail. No date for trial was fixed.

SOUTH CAROLINA ASKS EXTRADITION OF MACK SPRINKLE

Columbus, Ohio, August 6.—(P)—Governor Donahy received requisition papers from South Carolina today asking that Mack Sprinkle, alias Harry Jenkins, negro, be turned over by South Carolina authorities, who charge him with the murder of Julius Johnson, negro, at St. George, Dorchester county, July 4, 1925. Sprinkle is alleged to have struck Johnson over the head with a baseball bat. He is held in Columbus city prison. Hearing on the case was assigned for Tuesday.

PATRONAGE PROBE IN MISSISSIPPI TO BE RESUMED

Jackson, Miss., August 6.—(P)—Additional charges involving alleged graft in the sale of federal offices in Mississippi will be investigated at a special term of the grand jury of the United States circuit court at Biloxi September 4, it was announced here today by E. E. Hindman, United States district attorney.

Mr. Hindman declined to reveal the nature of the new evidence developed.

BISHOP AINSWORTH TO MAKE SPEECH TO ARK. METHODISTS

Fayetteville, Ark., August 6.—(P)—Bishop William Ainsworth, of Macon, Ga., who recently expressed "amazement" at a statement of United States Senator William J. Harris to the effect that prohibition was not an issue in the presidential campaign, tomorrow night is scheduled to address the western Methodist assembly, in session on Mt. Sequoyah. He is en route to the Orient.

Throngs Crowd American Furniture Co. Store as It Opens Doors for Business Here

General opening of the American Furniture company at Pryor and Auburn Monday brought throngs to the beautiful store.

Modernistic furniture inspired by the machine age, vividly colored lamps in futuristic designs and the newest in rugs are on display at the American Furniture company, which had its formal opening Monday afternoon. The company is an old firm reestablished in the same building at the corner of Auburn avenue and Pryor street it formerly occupied for twelve years.

R. A. Gordon, owner, has stocked his establishment with the very newest in furniture, rugs, tapestries and lamps. The art moderne is featured in the furniture which is vividly colored and so constructed that it stands upward in the most modernistic style.

There is a tendency toward more color in furniture, according to M. W. Reed, vice president of the firm who is here from Miami for the opening. Even the mirrors and lamps are designed in the new trend.

The American Furniture company is one of several stores operated by Mr. Gordon, others being located in Miami and Jacksonville. Mr. Gordon plans to open stores at Tulsa, Okla., and Dallas, Texas, within the next twelve months.

The Atlanta store is a riot of color. The furniture itself is brilliant and the dozens of floral offerings sent in by friends add to the general attractiveness. The salesmen are all trained men who have been given instruction in interior decorating and are capable of giving customers real help in the furnishing of their homes.

'Fatty' Arbuckle Sued for Decree
By Second Wife

Los Angeles, Calif., August 6.—(P)—A witness at a coroner's inquiry today positively identified the young woman's body found last Thursday in Stone Canyon near Hollywood as that of Barbara Mauer, completing, police said, their case against Russell St. Clair Beitzel, formally charged with the slaying.

The young woman, who, police say, eloped from Philadelphia with Beitzel, was found dead by some boys playing in the canyon. It is believed by investigators that Miss Mauer, who was shot through the head, became a mother between the time she was shot and the time she died, a matter possibly of a few days. Police believe she died a slow and painful death in the lonely canyon. Medical evidences point to the fact that she was approaching motherhood and the skeleton of an infant was found near the body.

Cartridges that fit a revolver found in Beitzel's room were part of the evidence today. These were found near the body by a boy.

The evidence which authorities said indicated Miss Mauer's condition before her death was produced from the record of a physician who attended her. The physician, Dr. J. Frank Griffin, who died two weeks ago, had told Miss Mauer, according to his record furnished by Mrs. Griffin, that she could expect motherhood about June 27. It was on June 25, officers believe, that she was shot.

Police today received from Phoenix, Ariz., the clothing which they say was stripped from Miss Mauer's body after she was shot. It was shipped, allegedly by Beitzel, to a fictitious address in Phoenix.

Beitzel, who denies all knowledge of the killing, is said to have a family in Philadelphia. Miss Mauer was a waitress there.

AVIATOR CRASHES TO DEATH WHILE SPRAYING COTTON

Shreveport, La., August 6.—(P)—Al Schneider, 27-year-old aviator, was killed instantly near here today when the plane from which he was spraying a chemical compound over a cotton field crashed from a low altitude. Schneider came here from Indianapolis where he made his home. He was a cotton field crasher from a low altitude. Schneider attempted to nose his plane upward to pass over the tree but the machine went into a loop and crashed.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 6.—(P)—Al Schneider, 30, killed in an airplane accident in Louisiana today, was a member of the United States army reserve corps and of the 113th observation squadron, Indiana National Guard. He was a brother of Lou Schneider, automobile race driver. His widow and two children survive.

LEAGUE TO OFFER ITS AID TO STATES

The Young Men's Democratic League of Georgia, which is to be organized in Atlanta at a meeting to be held at the Ansley hotel Wednesday evening, will tender its services to John H. Slater, democratic campaign manager for Georgia, to work for the election of Governor Alfred E. Smith and Senator Joseph T. Robinson, democratic nominees, it was announced Monday.

Although the meeting first was announced to be held on the roof of the Ansley hotel, arrangements have been completed to hold the session in the civic room of the Ansley. This change was made for the better convenience of those who will attend the rally.

Some of the state's foremost democrats will appear as speakers on the program, including both the United States senators. A large group of distinguished democrats have been invited as honor guests.

The civic room is on the ground floor of the hotel, which makes it accessible without using the elevators. It has a seating capacity ample for the occasion and is well ventilated, with windows on three sides of the room. The price per plate for the dinner to be served in connection with the rally will be $2, but this will not apply to the honored guests and the speakers.

As announced Sunday, the purpose of the rally is to organize a Young Men's Democratic League of Georgia, which will conduct an aggressive campaign in behalf of Alfred E. Smith and Joseph T. Robinson. Branches of the league will be organized in every congressional district and every county.

All democrats in Georgia, from 21 to 40 years of age, who are interested in carrying this state for the democratic presidential nominees in the general election, are cordially invited to attend the rally Wednesday evening, and are requested to communicate with R. J. Reynolds, 313 Palmer building, telephone Walnut 1480.

Among the prominent young democrats over Georgia who are coming with representative delegations from their neighborhoods are Samuel A. Cann, of Savannah; Frank Scarlett, of Brunswick; Augustus Sparks, of Macon; Herbert Dean, of Gainesville; Charles E. Martin, of Athens. Another prominent young democratic

AUTO TAG INCOME FOR YEAR EXCEEDS 1927 BY $100,000

Receipts of the state motor vehicle department from the sale of license tags already amount to $100,000 more than the receipts for the entire year of 1927, it was announced Monday. The receipts up to July 31, this year, amounted to $5,828,702, as compared to $5,728,702 for the same period last year for the rest of the year will be sold at one-half the price for an annual license.

TWO SHIP CAPTAINS SAY GULF STREAM HAS REVERSED FLOW

London, August 6.—(P)—Reversal of the direction of the Gulf stream in mid-Atlantic has been reported by two steamship captains arriving recently from the United States.

They said that the stream was flowing westward instead of eastward. This has aroused much interest in meteorological circles and some popular disquietude lest it portend a change in the British climate. Scientific authorities, however, assert that phenomenon is an isolated affair and that return of the ice age to the British isle is nothing for the present generation to worry about.

SUNDAY SYMPHONY CONCERT BARRED

For the second time within the past month, city council Monday afternoon, by a vote of 16 to 13, declined to permit the Atlanta Symphony orchestra to stage a Sunday afternoon show to retire a deficit. The action followed a heated councilmanic debate.

The resolution which would have permitted the showing, was offered by Alderman Claude E. Buchanan, of the eighth ward, and immediately precipitated a battle among members. Alderman William B. Hartsfield, of the third ward; Councilmen John A. White, of the fourth ward; James Wells, of the eighth ward, and others championed the Buchanan paper. Alderman J. Allen Couch, of the fifth ward, and Robert E. Gann, of the sixth ward, and Councilmen William E. Saunders of the twelfth, and Ben T. Huie, of the third, were the outstanding floor opponents of the measure.

Vote on the paper stood, for Hartsfield, Dobbs, Buchanan, Murphy, House, McCutcheon, White, Hardy, Osburn, Reynolds, Wells, Cobb and Drennon; against, Moon, Couch, Gann, Williamson, Millican, Loebe, Wardlaw, Turner, Chosewood, Huie, Bowden, Cooper, Ford, Johnson, Lyle and Saunders.

Mr. Buchanan and other champions of the paper declared that the organization has run a deficit for the past several years and that permission to stage the "show" is sought in order to wipe out this loss.

They promised that no tickets would be sold on Sunday.

Councilman Huie attacked the paper as naming an organization which "does not exist."

Alderman Gann declared the proposal was unfair, and should not be permitted. He assailed the idea of granting the privilege of Sunday shows to one group and denying the same right to others.

Alderman Couch declared "no public act of mine shall serve to handicap the church in its fight to maintain observance of the Sabbath."

COUNCIL ACCEPTS TRACT FOR PARK

In addition donated a strip on the south side of Peachtree creek 300 feet in depth and running from Howell Mill road eastward toward the bend of the creek, and from that point, south, such land as lies between the full line and Peachtree creek until it reaches the property owned by Mr. Bedell. If the full line at the three bends is less than 200 feet distant from the points indicated A, B, and C, in the diagram, at least that distance is to be given from the westward bend of the creek.

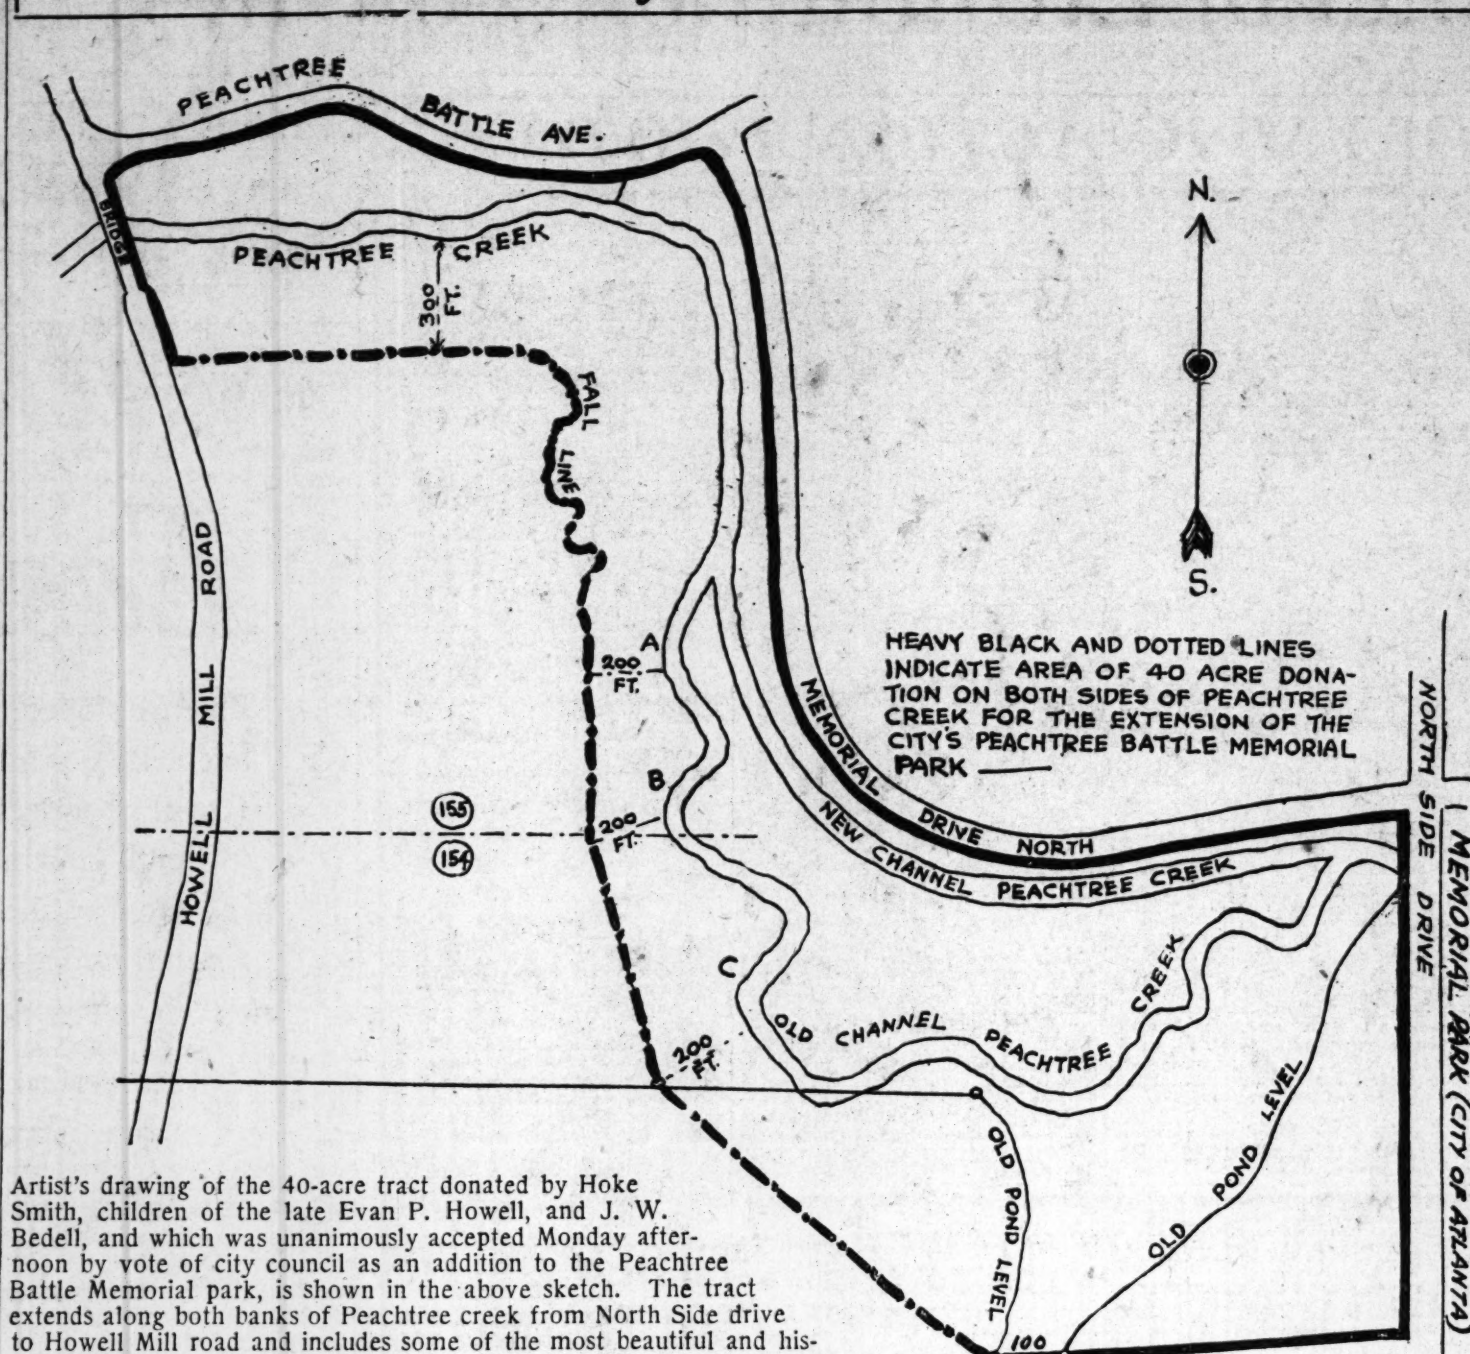

Smith Gives 20 Acres.

In addition to this Senator Smith tendered 9.2 acres of land on the south side of Peachtree creek extending southward to the property of Mr. Bedell, reaching the old pond level line to the west and the south, which line is part of the boundary line between the Smith property and that of Mr. Bedell. This brings the total contribution by Mr. Smith to 20 acres more or less.

The children of the late Evan P. Howell donate all that tract of land south and west of Memorial drive, the old channel of the creek, and also an additional strip on the north and east side of the new channel of Peachtree creek to Memorial drive. This already has been accepted by Fulton county as a highway through the battlefield of Peachtree creek. The tract which the Howells gave is 10 acres more or less.

Mr. Bedell gave that part of his property which begins at the point of Senator Smith's property opposite the bend of Peachtree creek indicated "C" in the diagram to the western end of the 100-foot east and west boundary line on the property between the Smith and the Bedell property, continuing the 100-foot boundary line eastward until it reaches North Side

40-Acre Gift To City For Battle Memorial Park

Artist's drawing of the 40-acre tract donated by Hoke Smith, children of the late Evan P. Howell, and J. W. Bedell, and which was unanimously accepted Monday afternoon by vote of city council as an addition to the Peachtree Battle Memorial park, is shown in the above sketch. The tract extends along both banks of Peachtree creek from North Side drive to Howell Mill road and includes some of the most beautiful and historic land in Georgia. The 20 acres which Senator Smith conveyed lies between Peachtree Battle avenue and Peachtree creek on the east side of Howell Mill road, and, in addition he donated a strip on the south side of Peachtree creek 300 feet in depth and running from Howell Mill road eastward toward the bend in the creek and from that point south, such land as lies between the full line and Peachtree creek until it reaches the property owned by Mr. Bedell. He also tendered an additional 9.2 acres of land on the south side of Peachtree creek extending southward to the property of Mr. Bedell, reaching the old pond level to the west and south. Mr. Bedell gave that portion of his property which begins at the point of Senator Smith's property opposite the bend in the creek marked "C" in the diagram to the western end of the 100-foot east and west boundary line on the property between the Smith and the Bedell property, continuing the 100-foot boundary line eastward until it reaches North Side drive. He also conveyed all that tract to the north side of the line continued, and south of the property of Senator Smith on the south side of the creek. The children of the late Evan P. Howell donated all that tract of land south and west of Memorial drive to the old channel of the creek, and also an additional strip on the north and east side of the new channel of Peachtree creek to Memorial drive.

drive. Mr. Bedell conveyed all that tract of land to the north side of the continued line, and south of the property of Senator Smith on the south side of the creek. His conveyance was 10 acres more or less.

Imposing Memorial.
Eugene V. Hayes, prominent real estate operator and citizen, gave the city 36 acres several months ago for the park, and with the additional 40 acres which the city received Monday, added to the 110-acre tract which the city already has set aside for the park, marked progress is made in establishment of what the park board declares will be the south's most imposing park memorial to heroes of the war between the states.

Included in development of the park is an 18-hole golf course to be known as the Bobby Jones course in honor of Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., the world's greatest golfer. Plans for the new course already have been completed by Stiles and Van Kleeck, internationally-known golf course engineers and landscape artists. Actual work on the course is expected to begin within the next week.

Brilliant paths, markers which it is expected that the United States government will place commemorating the deeds of valor in the battle of Peachtree creek, paved roads and other additions are included in the development program.

Praises Donors.
In offering the tender to city council Monday afternoon, Councilman John A. White, of the fourth ward, chairman of the parks committee of city council, praised the public-spirited attitude of the donors and asked council to accept the tender with a vote of thanks to those who "have contributed at least $60,000 worth of park land to the city without a cent of cost."

"This is one of the most generous and finest offers the city has ever received," Mr. White declared in offering a unanimous favorable report of the parks committee that the offer be accepted. "There is no string to it. We simply must agree to use it for park purposes, a thing we not only feel we should do, but one which we should be glad of the opportunity of doing. The land is historic. It was made sacred by the blood of the brave soldiers of both the north and south in the struggle of the sixties. This tender will do much to assist us in development of the big memorial park which we have undertaken."

Other members of city council concurred in Mr. White's expressions, and asked its adoption. It was passed without a single dissenting vote.

The recommendation which the park committee offered in presenting the matter formally to council follows:

Committee Report.
To his honor the mayor, and general council: The park committee of council herewith submits for your consideration with its approval a very generous donation of land for the purposes as indicated. The tracts are offered to the city for park purposes, being on both sides of Peachtree creek between North Side drive and the Howell Mill road, and comprising 40 acres, more or less.

This donation to the city is made free of all cost to the city, the only condition being that it be accepted for park purposes only.

The committee on parks unanimously recommends this report with instructions to the city attorney to accept the deeds from the donors as indicated, said deeds to be drawn in accordance with the terms named in said offer. Respectfully submitted,

(Signed by full park committee.)
John A. White (chairman), Charles L. Chosewood, Oscar H. Williamson, William E. Saunders, J. T. Osburn.

AIRPORT WORKERS ALLOWED TO LIVE OUTSIDE OF CITY

Employees of the city working at Candler field, Atlanta's airport, Monday were given the privilege of living outside the city limits in the vicinity of the field where they are employed by action of council, Alderman William B. Hartsfield, of the third ward, chairman of the aviation committee of city council, offered the resolution which makes an exception of the airport employees from the ordinance requiring city employees to live inside the city limits.

ASHLEY TO SPEAK TO BIBLE CLASS

Alderman Claude Ashley, of the fourth ward, mayor pro tem, will address the J. O. X. class of the Western Heights Baptist church at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning, it was announced by Councilman Ellis B. Barrett, of the fifth ward, who is teacher of the class. The group is one of the largest Bible classes in that section of the city.

ATLANTA TO BUY SISSON PROPERTY

Veto by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale of a proposal to purchase the Siisson property in the eleventh ward for park purposes has resulted in saving the city $6,000.

Following filing of the mayor's veto Monday afternoon, members of the eleventh ward delegation in council, offered a paper providing for purchase of the 30-acre tract by the city for $50,000 instead of $56,000, and it was passed.

The paper will go to Mayor Ragsdale today for his approval. The mayor declared in his veto message that he believed the price of the tract too high.

In supporting the revised sales paper, Councilman John A. White, of the fourth ward, announced that he would not approve purchase of any additional park land this year at any price.

Under the revised purchase plan, council would pay $8,000 in cash and the rest of the $44,000 within 10 years.

Alderman William B. Hartsfield, of the third ward, fought the deferred payment plan as illegal, and Mayor Pro Tem Claude Ashley ruled the paper out of order. Proponents of the measure successfully appealed from the decision of the chair. Alderman Robert E. Gann, of the sixth ward, opposed the paper "on the same grounds that I opposed purchase of the Perkinson tract for park purposes."

"I believe the price is too high and the city already has a large acreage of undeveloped park land," Mr. Gann held.

ALEXANDER STREET REPAVING ASKED OF COUNTY BOARD

Fulton county commissioners Monday were asked to regrade and pave Alexander street from Marietta to McJannet streets by a resolution passed by council. The paper was offered by Councilman Jack Hardy, of the sixth ward. He declared that regrading and repaving of Luckie street has made the improvement necessary.

STREET CAR LINE EXTENSION URGED TO J. A. WHITE PARK

The Georgia Power company Monday was asked by council to extend its car line from the present terminus on Cascade road to the John A. White park. Action of council on the paper was unanimous.

Plans for Approaches To Atlanta Viaducts To Remain Unchanged

Contractors will continue construction of approaches to the Pryor street and Central avenue viaducts and the side streets in accordance with original plans and sidewalks will be reduced accordingly, under a decision of the bridge committee of city council Monday afternoon, but if the sidewalk areas are found to be inadequate to accommodate pedestrian traffic they will be widened by concrete additions. This decision was reached at a hearing at which property owners on Hunter street between Whitehall and Pryor streets protested reduction of the sidewalks for a widened street. Reuben Arnold, prominent Atlanta attorney, former Senator Hoke Smith, George Jones, vice president and treasurer of the J. M. High company, representatives of the Keely company and other property owners in the affected area attended the hearing.

Alderman W. Guy Dobbs, chairman of the bridge committee; Councilmen Wiley L. Moore, of the seventh ward, and Charles L. Chosewood, of the third ward, other members of the committee, were present and announced that they would approve the sidewalk extensions if they were found necessary.

The citizens declared they were satisfied with the decision of the committee.

LOVERS OF BURNS WILL BE INVITED TO CONVEY HERE

Dr. Joe Jacobs, past president of the Burns club, will go to the annual convention of the Burns organization of the world in Scotland in November, armed with a councilmanic resolution asking that the 1929 gathering of the body be held here, according to action Monday afternoon by city council.

The resolution asking the organization to meet in Atlanta was offered by Alderman Claude E. Buchanan, of the eighth ward.

THOMAS N. FULTON DIES AT RESIDENCE

Thomas N. Fulton, 73, died Monday afternoon at his residence, 205 South Oak street, Decatur, following an extended illness.

Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon from the residence. The Rev. J. G. Patton will officiate and interment will be in the Decatur cemetery.

He is survived by his widow; two daughters, Miss Sarah Fulton and Mrs. W. H. Green; a son, Thomas N. Fulton, Jr., and a grandson, Billy Green.

Miss Norelius Sets Record; May Be Barred From Olympics

American Divers Thrill Crowd With Sparkling Exhibitions of Dives.

Amsterdam, August 6.—(AP)—A brilliant championship victory by Martha Norelius, of New York, in the women's 400-meter, free-style swim and an unexpectedly severe defeat by the water polo team at the hands of Hungary, 5 to 0, featured the activities of the American Olympic water sports representatives today.

In addition, Clarence Crabbe, of Honolulu, and Ray Studdy, of New York, finished third and fourth, respectively, in the 1,500-meter men's freestyle final which was won by Arne Borg, of Sweden, also in record-breaking time. Andrew Charlton, of Austria, the former champion was second.

There were only two finals on the day's swimming program but preliminary competition got under way in the 200-meter breast swim and in springboard diving. Thomas Blankenberg, of Oakland, Calif., the only American breaststroke entry, qualified in a heat won by Eric Rado-macher, of Germany, world's record-holder, in the new Olympic record time of 2 minutes 52 seconds. Blankenberg finished second. In diving, Peter Des Jardines, Miami Beach, Fla., and Michael Galitzen, better known as Mickey Galley, Los Angeles, A. C., qualified for the finals, while the third American entry, Harold Smith, Los Angeles A. C., was expected to be eliminated in final competition, although a dispute over scoring postponed decision in his case until tomorrow.

Star Performance. It was a girl who provided the highlight performance of the entire day, covering 400 meters in five minutes, 42.45 seconds. Miss Norelius made a show of her field and easily retained her Olympic championship won in 1924. Her time was two and three-fifths seconds faster than the world's record she herself established only Saturday in a preliminary heat. It also was 19.25 seconds faster than she made in winning the crown at Paris and beat both the world standards now on the books, 5:33.15, made by Gertrude Ederle in Indianapolis in 1922, and Miss Norelius' own 5:51.25 made at Coral Gables, Fla., last year and on which she had applied for a world record. Had her lead been challenged today Miss Norelius probably could have lowered her time to 5:10. She traveled easily and swiftly, swimming a great race which proved her near the peak of her career. Miss Braun, of Holland, was second, far out of the picture, with Miss Josephine McKim, of Homestead, Pa., third.

In the other feature race, the men's 1,500-meter final, Crabbe fought gamely but Borg is not called "the Swedish Hurricane" for nothing. He beat off Charlton and Crabbe in the first few strokes, getting a big lead which he was able to hold in part despite the event bid by the Australian in the last half of the race which sent him well ahead of the Hawaiian boy. Young

Women Stars May Be Barred From Olympics

U. S. Frowns on Movement; To Be Decided at Meeting Today.

BY ALAN J. GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor.

Amsterdam, August 6.—(AP)—Controversy over whether women's track and field events should be retained on the Olympic program was brought to the floor of the congress of the International Amateur Athletic Federation this afternoon.

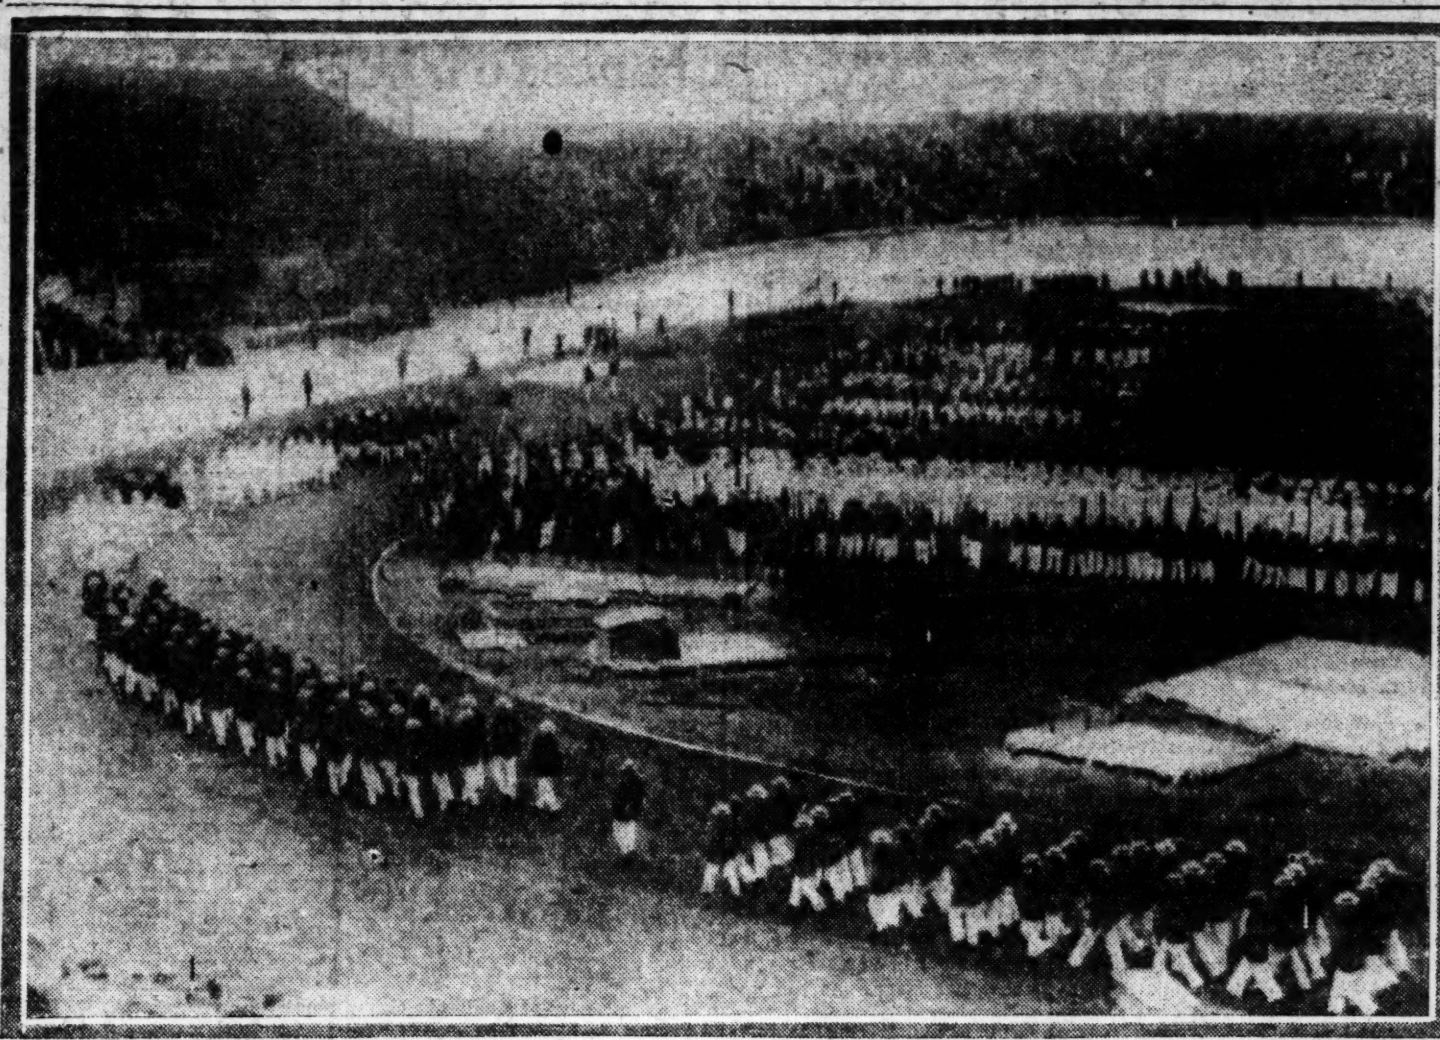

A majority report from the council, in which the United States joined, favored retaining the feminine features limited to not more than six events provided the grueling 800-meter race be eliminated, but sharp opposition immediately developed. A prospective fight over the issue was postponed until tomorrow after Finland's representative had moved to abolish the women's events.

The federation reversed itself on tenth-second watches, adopting timing by them for races up to and including 250 meters only, after previously refusing to accept any records on a tenth-second basis. Today's action which, it was specified, is non-retroactive, followed a report from a committee of three endorsing the accuracy of tenth-second watches and revealing that the perfection of accurate hundredth-second timepieces is likely in the near future. Charles Padlock's new famous nine and five-tenths for 100 yards would have been a world's record if the decision to accept tenth watches had been made 10 days earlier. It is now on the books only as nine and three-fifths.

The Women's Athletic Federation has put up a strenuous fight for doubling their part in the Olympic track and field program, henceforth, arguing for 10 events instead of the five held the past week. This was definitely opposed by the I. A. A. F. council, which seriously considered dropping the entire feminine participation because of criticism growing out of the 800-meter race, which exhausted virtually all the competitors including the winner, Frau Lina Radke, of Germany, and Florence Macdonald, the American girl who was sixth. It appears certain that the event will be eliminated as dangerous but women may be permitted to add the hurdles and perhaps one other event to the program, now including the 100-meter dash, 100-meter dash and 400-meter relay.

Finland's opposition to the women's events came as a surprise. The north country's delegate, Pihlakka, discussed at length upon the injurious effects of competition which he called unwomanly, declaring Finnish girls desired to leave track and field efforts to men. F. W. Rubin, who has been the center of the American Amateur Athletic union row, is scheduled to be virtually read out of the organization when officers and committee of the I. A. A. F. are named tomorrow. Rubin's place on the rules and record

HAMM, MATES ENTER GERMAN TRACK EVENTS

Amsterdam, August 6.—(United News).—Having scored a convincing triumph in the ninth Olympic, members of the United States track and field team divided forces today. They will demonstrate their skill in other European cities before returning home. Twenty-one, under the direction of Coach Keane and Hillman, left this afternoon for Cologne, Germany, to compete in an athletic meet there. They were Charles Borah, Fred Alderman, Henry Russell, W. O. Spencer, Lloyd Hahn, Nick Carter, Charles McGinnis, Frank Cuhel, Edward Hamm, Creth Hines, John Kuck, Leighton Dye, Robert King, Bernard Desinger, James Stewart, Levi Casey, Eric Kreuz, Clarence Houser, Fred Weicker, Kenneth Dougherty, and Charles Harlow. The first 13 named will go from Cologne to Stamford Bridge, England, at the conclusion of the meet, and the others, exception Houser and Weicker, will go to Paris. Houser and Weicker will go to Ghent.

The 'Big Six'

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Harry Heilmann, tailender in the Big Six, provided most of the action when the entire National league half was put out of action by wet grounds. In three times at bat during the "go" 8-0-5 victory over the Athletics Heilmann hit his second home run in two days, and a double, and drove in two runs. Although yesterday's batting spree could not move him from last place in the Big Six standing, it raised his batting average four points to .295.

In the same game Ty Cobb appeared as a pinch hitter for Moley in the eighth inning and failed to help the Athletics' cause by flying out. This fly cost him one point in his batting average, which is now .327. Babe Ruth was kept busy during most of the Yankees 15-inning battle with the White Sox walking to first base. The Babe had only four official times at bat and got but one hit, a single, which drove in New York's first run. He also lost a point in his average, dropping to .330.

TILDEN ENTERS SOUTHAMPTON NET TOURNAMENT

Southampton, N. Y., August 6.—(United News).—J. Gregory Mangin, young Newark, N. J., aspirant for tennis honors, today defeated John Deeg, Santa Monica, Calif., Davis cup squad member, in straight sets, 6-0, 6-3. Mangin took the first nine games in a row at the invitation tournament on the Meadow club courts. Deeg was seeded No. 1 in the meet. Sidney Wood, of the Westside Tennis club, New York, provided the only other upset of the day when he won from Gordon Lum, captain of the Chinese Davis cup team, 6-2, 6-4.

All other favorites won their first round matches. William Tilden sent his entry by radio from the steamship Paris and in response to an inquiry by the tournament committee, the following was received from Holcomb Ward, chairman of the amateur rules committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association: "Tilden eligible to play in all tournaments pending action on charges by the executive committee which will be convened at the earliest practicable date. He must himself decide upon the propriety of playing in tournaments in the meantime."

LACOSTE WILL NOT DEFEND U. S. TITLE.
Paris, August 6.—(United News).—Rene Lacoste's father announced tonight that the French tennis star had definitely decided not to defend his American championship at Forest Hills in September.

Lacoste will return from his vacation Friday and resume his job at the Hispano-Suiza Motor Works. Pere Lacoste has given Rene permission to absent himself from the job if he wished to defend the title.

Connie's Club Rickard Signs Changed Much Former Champ During Week For Title Go

Mack Has Catcher Playing Great Game at Third; Haas Is Doing Well.

BY GEORGE MORIARTY, Manager Detroit Baseball Club.

The line-up which Connie Mack has employed in his recent and surprising effort to overhaul the Yankees, gives baseball followers something to think about. It shows mainly the changing pattern of a ball club. Those grand veterans, Speaker and Cobb, have been steadily absent in order to make room for Haas, former Atlanta outfielder, and Simmons in the outfield.

A further glance shows two catchers, Cochrane and Fox, in third and fifth positions, respectively, as batsmen. Fox, by the way, is exhibiting rare versatility—as a third baseman, and he can also do a high-class job on the initial sack. Orwell is showing splendid form at first base and he may yet be seen there in a regular capacity instead of pitching or playing the outfield. Therefore, Connie Mack, playing a catcher at third, and a pitcher-outfielder at first, reveals a most unusual brand of resourcefulness.

No "Easing Up."

Of course, you have read the current gossip about the Yankees purposely "easing up." It is the biggest laugh that major league ballplayers have had this season. "Easing up" to make the turnstiles click in abundance—what a clownish idea? If the American league race were arranged as a matter of gate receipts at this time, there are a few questions to be asked. Why should the Yankees allow themselves to ramp ahead with a 13-1-2 game lead to discourage the rush of the customers earlier in the season? And why should they allow Cleveland to pile up 17 runs in two innings? And more recently, why should they go through the grueling mental and physical grind of the 15-inning game they lost to the Browns? Couldn't the same result be accomplished in nine innings? Herb Pennock had been saved purposely with the hope of winning that game for the Yanks.

Doubting Thomases.

Why should the Yankees destroy a palace to dwell in a hovel? If the Doubting Thomases could only get an earful of the doings in the clubhouse after a tough game is dropped, I am sure their doubts would fly hastily out the window. I talked to Miller Huggins, the Yankees' pilot, a week ago regarding the outlook for his club, and I have never found a man in a more serious mood. Quite naturally, he was trying to straighten out the pitching problem which has unfortunately confronted him lately.

Jack Will Start Training for Bout When Stage Work Is Over.

New York, August 6.—(United News).—Jack Dempsey has signed a contract with Tex Rickard, promoter, to fight the winner of the heavyweight elimination tournament, which will decide the successor to Gene Tunney, according to a story printed in the New York Daily News tonight.

The story said Dempsey "probably will say that he is through with the ring but anything he says on that score" should be discounted. Dempsey will go into training when his present dramatic engagement, which is expected to last six months, is ended, the story said.

LOUGHRAN SIGNS TO MEET SHARKEY.

New York, August 6.—(United News).—Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, light-heavyweight champion, signed with Tex Rickard today to meet Jack Sharkey, of Boston, in a 15-round bout October 5. Sharkey has not signed.

Rickard plans to stage the bout as one of the eliminations to determine the successor to the heavyweight title vacated by Gene Tunney.

U.S. Boxing Team In Best of Shape

Amsterdam, August 6.—(United News).—Coach Spike Webb announced today that the United States boxing team was in splendid shape for the weighing in ceremonies preparatory to the first Olympic contests.

"Nobody on the team will have any trouble making the weight," Webb said. "Our men have shown well in training and there are no injuries after three weeks of training." Steve Holtsko, Auburn, N. Y., lightweight; Tommy Lown, New York, welterweight; and Harry Henderson, Waltham, Mass., middleweight, look best among the American squad.

Webb expects the strongest opposition to come from Italy, Sweden, Germany and England. The Swedish boxers recently won the European championship with 32 nations entered.

British Welcomed Home.

London, August 6.—(AP)—British Olympic competitors received a great ovation from London tonight when they returned from Amsterdam. It being a bank holiday, large crowds gathered at the railway station to wait for the train bringing the athletes home. The party included all the empire athletes who will compete with America at Stamford Bridge Saturday.

Annual Hoo Hoo Meet Under Way

The annual golf tournament of the Atlanta Hoo Hoo club, of the lumbermen, is under way and the first round matches have been completed. The matches were played over the Ingleside Country club course and the second round pairings are slated to start immediately over the same links. Much interest has been shown in this year's competitions and rivalry has been of the keenest nature, with close matches in all pairings.

The final or championship round is scheduled to take place at the Ingleside course next week. Results of the first round matches are as follows:

Lucien Saunders defeated Herbert J. West.
John Ray Pattillo defeated Steve R. West.
Frank G. Lake, Jr., defeated Jake W. Starr, 1 up.
A. O. Marbut vs. Mack M. Evans, match delayed.

Georgia Tobacco Growers Sell Ten Million Pounds Of Product First Week

Average Price Little More Than 12 Cents; Second Week's Sales Began Monday.

Atlanta, August 6.—(AP)—The opening week of Georgia's 1928 tobacco season produced sales of 10,400,422 pounds of tobacco at an average price of 12.69 cents per pound, or more than three million pounds in excess of that of last year but slightly more than five cents under the average price for 1927, the department of agriculture reported today.

The total value of sales for the four-day period ending August 4 was $1,329,955.88, compared with $1,265,457.75 for the first week last season when total sales of 7,149,156 pounds brought an average price of 17.71.

Three markets had sales of more than one million pounds during the week, the report revealed, with Douglas leading the list with a total of 1,110,370 at an average price of 11.85. Blackshear was second in volume with 1,055,200 pounds that went for an average of 11.99 and Vidalia was third with 1,015,302 at an average of 12.02.

The highest average price realized was at Cairo, which reported the smallest sales. Here, 74,786 pounds brought 15.82 per pound. Claxton, a new market this year, was shown to have realized the lowest average price, with 10,92 for 225,348 pounds.

The only other new market—Statesboro—had sales of 350,908 at an average price of 10.92.

A total of 22 warehouses, nine more than functioned last year, are in operation for the 1928 season.

The figures, which were compiled by Marcus P. McWhorter, statistician of the state agricultural bureau, and released by the Georgia Cooperative Crop Reporting service, were reported for the respective markets as follows:

RIVERS ASKS NEW DATE OF AUGUSTA

Request was made to the Augusta Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday by State Senator E. D. Rivers that its date for an open forum on the state political situation be changed from Thursday, August 16, to Wednesday, August 15, or Friday, August 17, so that Governor L. G. Hardman can attend the session, it was announced Monday by Senator Rivers.

This request was made on account of the statement made Sunday by Governor Hardman that he will not be able to attend the open forum because Thursday is the day he has set aside each week for the hearing of applications for clemency.

Characterizing the governor's reason as "ridiculous," Senator Rivers, who is the governor's opponent in his race for reelection, declared that the governor has filled other dates, on Thursdays.

The "open forum" was arranged several weeks ago by the Augusta Junior Chamber of Commerce so that all candidates for statehouse offices could appear in Augusta and discuss the issues of the various campaigns.

This request was made on account of the statement made Sunday by Governor Hardman that he will not be able to attend the open forum because Thursday is the day he has set aside each week for the hearing of applications for clemency.

Characterizing the governor's reason as "ridiculous," Senator Rivers, who is the governor's opponent in his race for reelection, declared that the governor has filled other dates, on Thursdays.

ALLEGED SLAYER WILL FACE MACON COURT WEDNESDAY

Macon, Ga., August 6.—(AP)—"Griff" Grinstead, Montgomery county convict, held here for safekeeping since he was captured on July 13 after being "shot" a deputy, will be placed on trial before Judge Graham today, at the Oconee circuit, Wednesday.

Grinstead was under life imprisonment for the slaying of a Montgomery county man when he escaped in April, 1927. Efforts to retake him on last July 13 resulted in the slaying of Homer Stuckey, deputy, near Mount Vernon.

The Montgomery county grand jury is expected to return an indictment for murder against Grinstead early this week.

JAILED FOR SALE OF LIQUOR, YOUTH OBJECTS TO 'ALIAS'

He gave probi officers his name in two ways, but Bill James, or Bill Owens, as the case may be, objected Monday to being docketed as the possessor of an "alias."

"That looks bad," the youth told United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith. "Make it 'Bill Owens' and let it go at that."

"Sorry," the commissioner replied, "but you gave us two names, and you can't take one back now."

Enforcement officers swore Bill delivered them a quart in an automobile where there were several others. He was held to the grand jury under a $200 bond.

"JACK WILSON" CLUE IS FALSE ALARM. PHOTOGRAPH SHOWS

Another clue to the whereabouts of "Jack Wilson," object of a three-year search in the W. H. Cheek holdup murder, was discredited Monday when the photograph of a man held in Austin, Texas, on his assertion that he is Wilson, could not be identified here.

The photograph was taken to a county convict camp where Theo Berry, under life sentence for participation in the Cheek murder, said positively it bore no resemblance to the man whom Berry describes as the gunman who killed Cheek.

The prisoner furnished his name to Texas authorities as D. N. La Vallie. After a representative from the solicitor's office ascertained that fellow employees of Wilson's at a local chair factory could not identify the photograph it was announced that county authorities will make no move to have La Vallie returned from Texas.

Cheek, a Peachtree road grocer, was killed when a party of three held up his store. Mell Gore was executed a year ago. Berry received a life sentence and Wilson has been a fugitive.

A girl named Ruby Ray was also involved in the affair. She is doing a sentence now under conviction for robbery.

Reserve Officers To Be Honored At Brilliant Hop Friday Evening

Fort McPherson, August 6.—Of particular interest to the army contingent is the hop to be given by the Fort McPherson Officers' club at the Army Service club Friday evening from 9 to 12 o'clock in honor of the reserve officers of the 173rd brigade and the engineer corps who are on duty at the garrison. The guests will be received by General and Mrs. Abraham G. Lott, Colonel and Mrs. George F. Baltzell, Colonel T. S. Moorman, executive officer of the 173rd brigade, and other officers of the reserves.

Mrs. Robert T. Foster left Monday for Anniston, Ala., to visit her mother, Mrs. A. T. Jones. Lieutenant Foster plans to join Mrs. Foster next week and they will spend the month of August in Alabama. September will find them ensconced in an attractive apartment in Columbus, Ga., where Lieutenant Foster will be a student in the company commanders class at Fort Benning. During their stay here both the Fosters have been popular members of the younger set at the garrison and a host of friends regret their departure.

Captain and Mrs. Charles Core Gans and their daughter, Mrs. Frank Rhodes II, and Frank Rhodes III, leave by motor Tuesday for an interesting tour, including in their itinerary Detroit, Mich., Atlantic City and a delightful stay at Play Mountain Inn in the Blue Ridge mountains. Mrs. Rhodes and Frank Rhodes will accompany Captain and Mrs. Gans as far as their home in Chambersburg, Penn., while the Ganses will continue their tour in the east for several weeks, returning to the garrison the first of October.

Colonel and Mrs. George Baltzell will return to Fort McPherson Tuesday after a delightful stay at West Point Military academy visiting their son, Cadet George F. Baltzell, Jr. Major and Mrs. Oliver Allen arrived at the garrison Sunday by motor from Washington, D. C., where Major Allen has been on duty with the army war college for the past year. En route the Allens enjoyed a month's leave, dividing their time in New York visiting friends and at Miami Beach as the guest of Mrs. Allen's sister, Mrs. N. S. Dillon. Major and Mrs. Allen have been assigned quarters No. 12-E on the officers' line while Major Allen is on duty at the garrison as brigade executive officer.

Mrs. J. W. Walker, the charming guest of Captain and Mrs. Samuel C. Harrison, leaves Tuesday evening for her home in St. Augustine, Fla. During her stay at the garrison Mrs. Walker was the inspiration for a number of social courtesies.

Mrs. F. M. Whittle and Mrs. J. E. Joffe left the fort Sunday for an enjoyable trip in the west with brief stops in Chicago, Ill.; Kansas City, Mo.; Salt Lake City, Utah; and a more prolonged stay at the Yellowstone national park. Mrs. Whittle and Mrs. Joffe plan to return to the garrison the last of August.

Miss Adele Mays Is Honor Guest.

Mrs. Margaret Sacre was hostess at her home on Lucile avenue, Saturday at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Adele Mays, a popular bride-elect, whose marriage to Louis John Ploia will be solemnized Wednesday evening at St. Philip's cathedral. Contests were enjoyed and the prizes were won by Mrs. J. H. Blair and Mrs. George Westmoreland. Miss Lesie Sacre presented the gifts to the bride-elect. Miss Sacre was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. C. M. Sacre and her sister Miss Lesie Sacre.

Mrs. Henry Tanner To Be Honored.

Mrs. William Marion Camp has issued invitations to a tea Wednesday, August 8, at her home on The Prado, in Ansley Park, in compliment to Mrs. Henry Tanner, of Fort Meyer, Fla., who is among the prominent mid-summer visitors. Twenty-five friends of Mrs. Tanner have been invited for this occasion.

Riding Club Given Hunt Breakfast.

The members of the Saddle and Sirolo club were guests at a hunt breakfast Sunday morning, the hostesses for the occasion being Mrs. Robert H. White, Jr., and Mrs. Julian Thomas.

The party assembled at 7 o'clock at the residence of Morris Brant on Pace's Ferry road and after a brisk canter through the bridge paths adjoining the estates of Mr. Brandon and James L. Dicker, breakfast was served near the swimming pool on Mr. Brandon's estate, following a dip in the pool.

Miss Cain Weds Wayman Orr.

Of interest to a wide circle of friends is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Cain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Cain, to Wayman Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Orr, of College Park, which was solemnized Sunday, August 6, at the home of Rev. E. W. Altman, who performed the ceremony in the presence of a small group of relatives and friends.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for a motor trip through Florida. Upon their return they will be at home at 706 Pearce street.

Mrs. Ashby Honored In Joliet, Ill.

DeKalb Women Voters Hear Candidates Speak

The DeKalb League of Women Voters met Friday, August 3, at the courthouse in Decatur. At this time candidates for offices of judge of superior court and solicitor general spoke to the members of the league and a large number of interested visitors.

The following gentlemen spoke on the duties of the office to which they aspire and gave reasons for feeling qualified to hold such office: Judge John B. Hutcheson, incumbent, and James C. Davis, aspirant, for judge of superior court; Major Claud C. Smith, incumbent, and Young Harris Fraser, aspirant, for solicitor general.

Mrs. W. A. Ozmer, program chairman, introduced J. Howell Green, who spoke on "National Politics," giving facts of interest concerning both parties. Mrs. Wellington Stevenson, who presided, opened the meeting for discussion, giving both democrats and republicans an opportunity to present their views. Mrs. Stevenson told the league of a tract of land near Jasper, Ga., which has been given for a summer camp to the Georgia League of Women Voters. At an early meeting of the league other candidates for office will be given an opportunity to speak.

Prominent Southerners Gather At Grove Park in Asheville, N. C.

Asheville, N. C., August 6.—The national president and the national vice president of the Junior League of America, both southerners, are spending their summer vacation at Grove Park Inn on Sunset mountain, Asheville, N. C. Mrs. Foskett Brown, of Nashville, Tenn., who heads this important body of the nation's young women of society, handed together for social and philanthropic purposes, is enjoying the outdoor sports, accompanying here her husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Dudley, of Nashville.

On Monday Mrs. J. Lewis Underwood, of Birmingham, second in command of the league, arrived to be Mrs. Brown guest at the inn, and they were given a luncheon Tuesday by the Junior League of Asheville, of which Mrs. Grady Marler is president, at the tearoom in Lakeview park which is conducted by the inn.

The dance at Grove Park Inn on Saturday night, which ushered in the August season, was representative of the social life of many southern cities. Atlanta and Charlotte were close rivals for the largest contingent but there were visitors from as far as Texas, Detroit and New York.

The most recent arrivals from Atlanta are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Finley, attending the cabaret week and fashion

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spratt, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cates and daughter, Sarah; J. C. Malone, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cline, J. Prince Webster.

Mrs. Eugene Black and Mrs. Warner Martin, who have been visiting at Hendersonville, were luncheon guests at the inn last week while their husbands played golf at Biltmore Forest.

Arrivals from Atlanta within a week will be Mr. and Mrs. Reuben R. Arnold and son, Mrs. A. W. Calhoun, Mrs. J. Carroll Payne, Mrs. W. J. Morrison and Miss Anna Blake Morrison, Mrs. William Healey, Messrs. William and Oliver Healey, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Black, Dr. and Mrs. Glenville Giddings, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Maddox and daughter, Laura; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Smythe, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Martin and Mrs. LeRoy Childs.

Mrs. Ringman Moore, of Jacksonville, who was Miss Viola Johnson, of Macon, has joined her mother, Mrs. McEwen Johnston, and her brother, W. M. Johnston, of New York, at the inn.

Sixteenth century folk dances by boys and girls from the Appalachian school at Penland, an Episcopal institution, will take the place of the motion pictures as entertainment at the inn Wednesday night. A large patronage from Grove Park is also attending the cabaret week and fashion

Junior League Tea Room Closed Today.

Miss Margaret Nelson, president of the Atlanta Junior League, announces that the Junior League tea room will be closed today out of respect to Mrs. Louise Parker Carson, a beloved member of the league, whose death occurred Sunday and whose funeral will be held this morning.

T. P. A. Auxiliary To Hold Picnic.

The Ladies auxiliary of Post B. T. P. A., will hold a picnic at Grant park Thursday, August 9. The ladies will gather at the park at 4:30 o'clock. Each lady is requested to take a picnic lunch and a dozen lemons. The men are invited for dinner at 6:30 o'clock.

Telephone Committee Meets Wednesday.

The Mary E. Larocca Telephone committee of East Point Grove No. 204, meets with Mrs. M. M. Brown, 413 Hardin avenue, College Park, Wednesday, August 8.

All members are urged to attend as work for the Eggleston Memorial hospital will be completed and ready to turn over to hospital by September 1.

Show at Kenilworth Inn, which is being sponsored by Mrs. J. F. A. Cecil and by Mrs. Peter Goletti Gerry, of Rhode Island and Asheville.

Miss Retta Clark And Mr. Shoun Wed Next Saturday

Very notable among the weddings of the summer will be that of Miss Retta Clark and Murray Chase Shoun of Atlanta, which will be celebrated Saturday at 8 o'clock in the evening at the home of Miss Clark's mother, Mrs. John F. Clark, on Palmer avenue, in New Orleans, La. Miss Clark will have as her attendants her sister, Mrs. James Anderson, as matron of honor, and Misses Elinor Bright and Kinta Desmare as bridesmaids. Speaker Tunnell of New York will be best man to Mr. Shoun.

The wedding will claim the attention of fashionable society in New Orleans, where the bride-elect, Miss Clark, is among the most beautiful and popular members of society, and will also interest a wide circle of Mr. Shoun's friends in Atlanta, where he is engaged in business. They will sail, August 18, from New York on the Isle de France, on their honeymoon in Europe, returning to America in the fall and will take up their residence in this city.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

KING EAGLE SAVES THE TWINS.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Impulse frequently will lead To the kindest sort of deed.

—King Eagle.

Nearer and nearer to the old log, behind which crouched Yowler the Bobcat, Mrs. Lightfoot and the pretty little spotted fawns moved. High up in the blue, blue sky, looking down, was King Eagle. He could see Yowler's stub of a tail twitching.

"I don't like it," said King Eagle. "I don't like it. Mrs. Lightfoot ought to know a lot better than that. She deserves to lose one of her babies."

Then King Eagle swung a little bit lower; he wanted to see better. Lower and lower he swung. He could see that Yowler was all ready to jump. In just a moment or two more he would have one of those beautiful spotted babies, one of the prettiest babies in all the Green Forest.

And right then King Eagle did something without thinking. That is, he hadn't planned to do it. He suddenly screamed, a loud fierce scream, such as only he can give. And at the same time he swung across so that his shadow passed over the grass in front of Mrs. Lightfoot. Instantly Mrs. Lightfoot threw up her head, gave a sharp whistle and bounded to the edge of the clearing. The opening, the twins at her heels. There Mrs. Lightfoot turned to look back, her great ears set forward to catch the least suspicious sound, her beautiful big eyes wide with startled suspicion. Again King Eagle screamed and turned, as if coming toward them. Mrs. Lightfoot bounded into the woods and jump for jump with her went the twins.

Once more up, up, up into the blue sky, King Eagle mounted. Looking down, he could see the savage face of Yowler the Bobcat turned up toward him. There was hate in those fierce yellow eyes of Yowler. Still he crouched there. He was not showing himself by moving.

In Yowler's mind there was no suspicion that King Eagle had seen him. It is just my bad luck, thought Yowler. "Why that fellow had to come sailing along just then for I don't know. He didn't dare show his face one of those fawns. I've heard that King Eagle sometimes carries away a very young fawn, but I guess those fellows are too big for him. But they would have been just right for me. Yes, sir, they would have been just right for me, and I would have had one or both of them but for his interference. Why doesn't he stay at home on the Great Mountain, where he belongs? What business has he to come over here, spoiling the hunting of others?"

Up, up, up went King Eagle until he was merely a speck in the sky. Then he swung away toward the Great Mountain. Yowler got to his feet stretched and yawned. Then he went over to where Mrs. Lightfoot and the twins had been and there he sniffed about in the grass, getting their scent. His mouth watered. He snarled his disappointment deep down in his throat. Then he turned and bounded away toward the ledge hidden in the Green Forest.

Meanwhile, all unconscious of the real danger they had been in, Mrs.

Lightfoot led the twins through the Green Forest toward the pond of Paddy the Beaver. She had a feeling that she might find Lightfoot over there; Lightfoot, the father of the twins. Besides, she wanted the twins to learn about this part of the Green Forest. Never in their short lives had they been so far as the pond of Paddy the Beaver, and she felt the experience would be good for them.

The next story: "The Fright the Twins Got." (Copyright, 1923, by T. W. Burgess.)

"If only I could speak plainly to my women customers"

Says the head saleslady in a smart shop

Embarrassing to tell them—but they should know about this new process of neutralizing odor in sanitary pads. It means greater mental comfort than ever before.

When shopping, in business, socially—wherever women meet the world—there is an important question of personal hygiene that can mar their happiness. They do offend others at times. And this new treatment which deodorizes every Kotex pad positively prevents such offense.

The dreadful self-consciousness that prevents carefree assumption of daily tasks; the mental discomfort is ended! Kotex scientists have discovered (and patented) a safe way to banish all odor.

Conspicuous bulkiness gone, too

That other fear—the feeling of being conspicuous—is now eliminated. Corners of the Kotex pad are scientifically rounded and tapered so as to leave no evidence of sanitary protection when worn.

Yet every advantage remains

When you need greater or less protection, you can so easily add or remove layers of filler. It is, as always, absorbent to an amazing degree. The fact that you can so easily dispose of it makes a great difference to women. And a new treatment renders it softer, fluffier, than you thought possible.

Won't you try the Improved Kotex—buy a box this very day. It is 45c for a box of twelve, at any drug, dry goods or department store; also obtained through vending cabinets in rest-rooms.

*Kotex is the only sanitary pad that deodorizes by a patented process. (Patent No. 1,570,587, granted May 22, 1923.)

KOTEX

The New Sanitary Pad which deodorizes

Deodorizes... and 4 other important features:

- 1—Softer gauze ends chafing; pliable filler absorbs as no other substance can;
- 2—Corners are rounded and tapered, no evidence of sanitary protection under any gown;
- 3—Deodorizes safely, thoroughly, by a new and exclusive patented process;
- 4—Adjust it to your needs; filler may be made thinner, thicker, narrower as required, and
- 5—It is easily disposed of; no unpleasant laundry.

—the smart hi-lo heel

Marlboro

Clever shoe craftsmen set themselves to a hard task—to create a heel with the comfort and swank of a "block" and yet with the feminine daintiness of a French heel. This is the "hi-lo" heel! Black patent or nut brown kid may be had in this slipper combined with genuine water-snake. A smart, dagger-pointed strap.

Now You Can Reduce 2 to 4 Lbs. in a Night

Eat what you please
Wear what you please
Do what you please
Take no risky medicine

Thousands of smart women have found this easy way to take from two to four of the most famous springs have taught us the secret of their effectiveness. You can now have all these benefits in your own bath. Merely put Fayro into your hot bath. It dissolves rapidly. You will notice and enjoy the pungent fragrance of its balsam oils and clean salts.

The Hot Springs Are Now Brought to You

Painstaking analyses of the active ingredients of the water from twenty-two of the most famous springs have taught us the secret of their effectiveness. You can now have all these benefits in your own bath. Merely put Fayro into your hot bath. It dissolves rapidly. You will notice and enjoy the pungent fragrance of its balsam oils and clean salts.

Then, Fayro, by opening your pores and stimulating perspiration forces lazy body cells to sweat out surplus fat and bodily poisons. You will sleep better after your Fayro bath and awaken feeling as though you had enjoyed a week's vacation.

Your physician will tell you that Fayro is certain to do the work and that it is absolutely harmless.

Fayro will refresh you and help your body throw off worn-out fat and bodily poisons. Your skin will be clearer and smoother. You will sleep better after your Fayro bath and awaken feeling as though you had enjoyed a week's vacation.

Loss Weight Where You Most Want To

Fayro reduces weight generally, but you can also concentrate its effect on abdomen, hips, legs, ankles, chin or any part of the body you may wish.

Results Are Immediate

Weigh yourself before and after your Fayro bath. You will find you have lost from 2 to 4 pounds. And a few nights later when you again add Fayro to your bath, you will once more reduce your weight. Soon you will be the correct weight for your height. No need to deny yourself food you really want. No need for violent exercise. No need for drugs or medicines. # When Children Beg for Candy, Give This New Kind—All They Want

It is no longer necessary to refuse the children. Science has produced a deliciously fruit flavored Dextro candy, and now give your children all they want of it, with perfect confidence.

Dextro and delicious fruit flavors are scientifically combined into Dextros, as these remarkable new lollypops are called. Your physician will tell you why such candy is actually body-building. He will point out that Dextro is more digestible than Lactose (the sugar of milk) and is therefore quickly assimilated by the most delicate system.

Your children will love Dextros, and you will be relieved of the candy problem. No longer need you say NO; give them Dextros to keep them happy and well. DEXTRO COMPANY, ATLANTA.

Bodies Reeking With Bacteria

Anybody who has seen a mosquito through a powerful magnifying glass will testify that it is not the sort of sight that is calculated to increase your love for insects.

Puffy pouch, fat with fresh blood, wings loaded with bacteria, and long sharp-tipped talons ready to sting. Ready to suck precious blood from you while you sleep, to rob you of your rest, to cause you to toss wretchedly and to poison you with deadly disease.

Mosquitoes alone are responsible for thousands of deaths in the United States every year. From their breeding places they fly to persons who are ill with contagious maladies and then carry the germs to persons who would otherwise remain well.

Kill-Ko is the never-miss scientific way of dealing death to mosquitoes and to all other insect pests. Its clean vapor gas saturates the air, goes into the cracks and corners and kills them where they breed and live. Yet it is harmless to humans, animals, furniture and fabrics. If Kill-Ko won't kill 'em, they are dead already. Priced 50c and 75c in the best drug and grocery stores. Sold only in the blue bottle. Rigo Manufacturing Co., Nashville, Tenn.

The Taming of Elizabeth

By WINIFRED BOGGS

SYNOPSIS.

The young Elizabeth is the adored daughter of Tim and Elizabeth Darcy. When she is four years old she runs away from home to avoid punishment for getting into mischief. She is brought home promptly by a neighbor, Miss Smiley.

At 12, Elizabeth runs away again, this time from school and to the home of her Aunt Dolly, in London. Dolly, who is almost as flighty as the young Elizabeth, sympathizes with her niece, much to the irritation of her stepson, Stephen Whitby. After the death of her parents Elizabeth goes to live with her aunt. During the war they keep themselves busy and also amused by performing in amateur theatricals for the benefit of wounded soldiers. Stephen, home on leave, is asked by his stepmother to bring Mark Lennox, a young playwright, to one of their performances. Shortly after the end of the war Mrs. Whitby dies suddenly in Brighton, and Elizabeth leaves to her consternation that her aunt had frittered away the money left her by her husband, and had also disposed of some of Stephen's inheritance as well. Afraid to face Stephen after this revelation, Elizabeth decides to go to Mark Lennox in London and ask him to get her a job on the stage. Stephen finds her with Mark and, although his business has failed, he offers to help her. She refuses his help and advice, and takes her own way. On the opening night she gets stage fright, and runs off, leaving an understudy to take over her part. Miss Smiley, who happens to be in London visiting her cousin, Mrs. White, sees Elizabeth on the street and takes her to Mrs. White's house. The latter offers her a job as cook and Elizabeth accepts. But she fails in this job, too, and then lands a post as companion to an old lady in the home of Miss Vespington, the old lady's grandnephew, makes all the arrangements with Elizabeth. Elizabeth grows fond of Mrs. Vespington, who showers attention upon her young companion, but their mutual relationship and acents a mystery about the house.

INSTALLMENT XXXII.

A STRANGE TALE.

Elizabeth gave a nervous start, but it was only Stevens entering noiselessly, bringing in the mail bag. "O, dear, how he startled me!" she exclaimed.

"Really, Elizabeth, you are getting absurdly jumpy. I must really beg you not to give way to nerves like this. You simply encourage them and they do nobody any good. You do not realize I am easily upset, and so sensitive that I only remain well and bright while my companion is well and bright. It's just foolish fancies."

"It's that girl!" blurted out Elizabeth. "What girl?" "The asylum one."

"Who told you about her?" "She does," said I. "I mean I just know. It's as if her unhappiness is still here, wandering about, trying to make other girls understand, sympathize, help—"

Elizabeth's hands were shaking, her face drained of all color. "She did sleep in my room, didn't she? Did . . . did she die there?"

"Don't be absurd. In an old house every room must have known its births, its deaths; it's nothing to us. She probably slept in all the rooms in turn. Really, I know nothing about her or the other patients and care less. Probably she was a silly, hysterical creature who need not have gone mad or died at all if she had not given in to idle fancies."

"But if she was young and alone, and helpless?" "She thought she was. It would be to be these things when one was faced with such terror and the way of escape was barred."

Mrs. Vespington laughed lightly. "Pooh, Elizabeth! We were talking of love and now we have got to a mad girl."

"But was she really mad? I do not think she seems so, and suppose she was not, and they just kept her there, which is a even tried to drive her mad—"

"Why suppose anything so unlikely? The fact is, my dear, these heavy 8 o'clock dinners are too much for your digestion. After our visitors have gone we'll try a light meal at 7 instead. Lobster and duck and truffle, well I can do it and he no worse, but the girls of the day seem to have rather queer stomachs. Nerves again. A sole, white wine, and a little fruit for a night or two, and sweet dreams, Elizabeth. Ah, my dear, we flatter ourselves it's our highly strung, sensitive nerves that are upsetting us, and all the time the seat of our disorder is the liver, and the stomach. As for the soul—"

"And her tiny claws like his made a gesture of dismissing the soul and all such absurdities. Elizabeth, thinking of the masses of rich food the other had forced on her, gave a sigh of relief. Why, of course, that was it! she was not haunted by the ghost of any dead girl, merely by the ghosts of lobsters and ducks and rich truffles and wines. Of course, it was her stomach and she ought to be ashamed of it."

"All the same," she thought, "I tried not to take it, but she would insist. I might be a pig being fattened for the market the way she stuffs me!" and she laughed out of sheer relief.

No ghost, no creeping horror, no draining of her blood and vitality—just her stomach! "I can go to the station to meet them?" pleaded Elizabeth. "My dear, there is not room for both of us."

The girl's eyes filled with tears. She had so looked forward to that drive, and now it seemed it was to be denied her because Mrs. Vespington could not imagine separation even for an hour. "I meant just by myself," she said, not realizing the longing in her own voice.

Mrs. Vespington looked at her with a slight frown. "You will make your eyes red, then you will look very plain and the . . . won't bother about you. Perhaps your guardian will fancy I'll treat you."

Elizabeth gulped back her tears. "I do so want to meet them," she repeated obstinately.

"Very well, you can go." She was rewarded by the beaming joy on the young girl's face. "Only first help me to take the cages up to the attic. Julian isn't a bird lover, I'm afraid, and does nothing but fuss about them. I'm here, so he can think I have given up my hobby. Don't mention them to either; men are very queer."

A little later she saw her into the car, pleased at the radiant vision she presented. All signs of this absurd nervous distress had disappeared. This week-end would give back the old Elizabeth.

It was odd to think that for the first time in a couple of months Elizabeth was alone and far from those high walls, and that she did not really miss Mrs. Vespington. She even, though she was ashamed of the ingratitude, felt a sense of relief at her absence of freedom, of well-being. She felt about 16 and she scarcely looked more; she began to hum a gay little tune.

Old Brown looked at her and grunted, and the car gave one of its disconcerting jerks.

"You haven't driven much, have you?" she inquired tactlessly.

The old man grunted again. "I brings 'em from the station and I takes 'em back," he said.

"Bring what?" "You young ladies."

"O, I see! Have you brought many?"

He squinted at her sideways. "It's been going on a matter of many years now, ever since the young master . . . died."

Elizabeth was astonished at "young master;" how could he have been really young even all those years ago? why did Brown's voice sound so queer when he spoke of his death, as if there was something not quite ordinary.

"She didn't have them then?" "What! Young girls to stay when he was about? Not likely!" He seemed almost amused at the idea, if something so much more in death than in life can be amusement.

"Of course, she would not need them; she had him."

"Ay, she had him," his voice was dry.

"How upset she must have been to lose him."

"Ay; that were not what, she looked for. She thought she 'ad 'im for keeps."

"They were very devoted, I see?" "Again the old man grunted and the car swerved.

Mrs. Vespington does not come down often, I believe."

"Ay, comes down here often; for why should she? Only the young ladies . . . they keeps on comin'."

"I'm afraid Mrs. Vespington has not always been lucky in that way."

"There's allus got to be some folk as are unlucky."

"Well, the old car hangs on," she said laughingly. "It brings them up and takes them . . ."

"They're lighter going back," said Brown with a chuckle.

Elizabeth looked at him in bewilderment. "Why lighter?" she asked idly.

"Dunno," his mouth shut like a trap.

Brown brought the car, grinning to a standstill outside the station. "She's signaled," he said curtly.

Elizabeth dashed to a platform, her hand beating with excited joy. She collided with an old lady carrying a shabby suitcase and recognized Mrs. Vespington's sister, Mrs. Lennox.

She was returning to London seemingly for the London train came in on the other platform five minutes later than the incoming. She started at sight of Elizabeth, gazing at her with open astonishment.

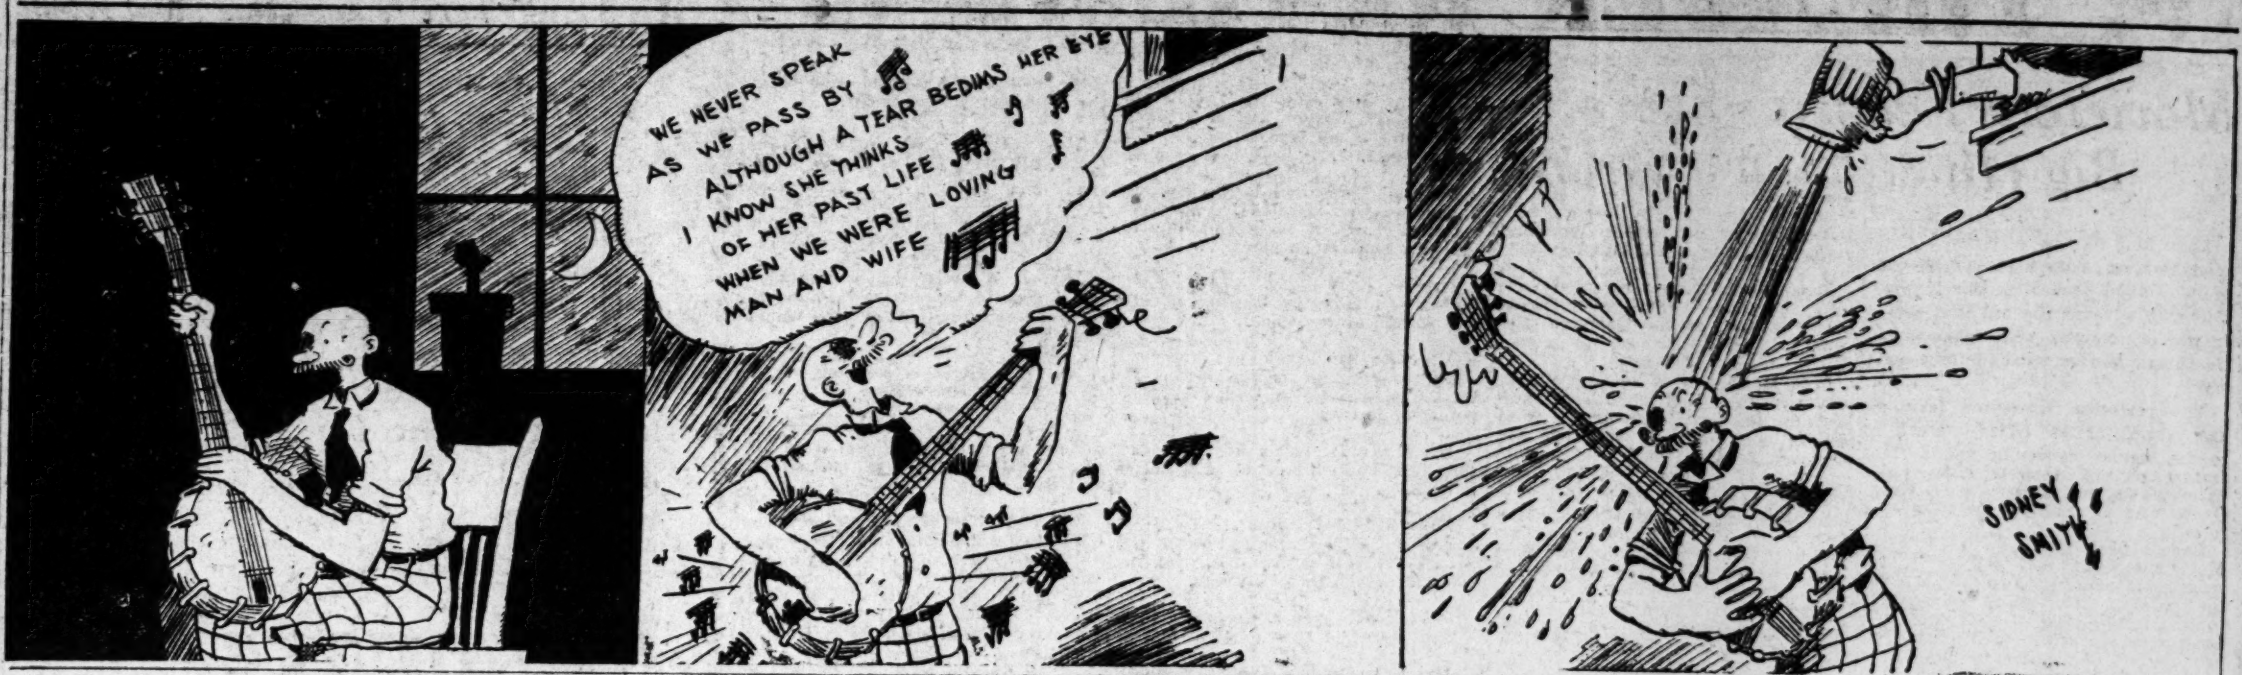

"Why you see all right—so far!" she gasped.

Movietone Features Score Big Hit at Loew's Grand

Launching its new perfected Movietone features Loew's Grand theater Monday night backed up this innovation with a vaudeville bill that clicks from start to finish with dynamic little Lillian Morton as the outstanding star.

The perfected Movietone features are carried as an added attraction to the regular vaudeville and to the feature picture which this week is "The Mysterious Lady" with Greta Garbo and Conrad Nagel in superb roles.

Loew's first Movietone is the Fox Movietone news reel and it shows some extraordinary news events with the talking, music and sound that round out this class of offering. The Loew machine seems to be about as near perfect as possible and was well received by the audience Monday.

Little Lillian Morton is a big favorite in Atlanta and she received a big hand Monday. When it comes to singing a topical song and putting a lot of punch into it she is in a class by herself. She is also a dramatic actress and provides some dramatic touches to her songs that draw the audience over to the edge of the seats. She is a remarkably gifted girl and she puts the old personality over with a bang.

Another act which opened smoothly and worked up to a high pitch of entertainment is the Dolan and Bonner musical revue, a combination of band and dancing act that scored heavily. There are eight people in the cast, including a marvelous dancer. One of the novelties is a peculiar instrumental quartet composed of a jew's harp, a hat rack, a ukulele and a plain old common one-gallon jug, which is the funniest has instrument heard here in a long time.

Raymond Wilbert, combination golf wizard and comedian, presents a real novelty that is highly diverting. Jack and Rita LaPearl, two old favorites, appear in "Indiana Folks," a ludicrous "rube" specialty. Sergeant Franklin and Ruby Royce open the bill in a wonderful sharpshooting act. Some of the marksmanship of Sergeant Franklin is amazing.

The Dolan and Bonner combination pleased to the limit in "The Mysterious Lady."

—PAUL STEVENSON.

ALL-TALKING FILM

PLAYING 2ND WEEK

TO RIALTO CROWDS

Beginning the second week of the "all-talking" movie, the "Lights of New York" continued to surprise and entertain large audiences at the Rialto theater Monday. This first all-talking picture, the most extensive of the many "talkies" now being staged, has no titles or subtitles, and every word of the actors is carried to the audience by the now perfected Vitaphone system.

An intriguing plot, one that would in itself make a feature drama, is made all the more entertaining by the introduction of sound accompaniment. Every scene of the varied metropolitan life is brought practically first hand into the theater. You can hear the hurried bustle of the streets, the sharp outbreak of waterfowl noises as a bootlegger battles the police, and a contralto who also hears the snappy music of a night club orchestra. New York is actually placed before you, and is yours to enjoy, a result of the stories of the screen in the fields of sight and sound.

Three acts of Vitaphone vaudeville, the movietone news, showing the latest of the world's happenings, and a short Vitaphone comedy-drama complete and excellent bill.

CLEVER ACTING

MARKS HOWARD

SCREEN OFFERING

Although handicapped by a rather threadbare plot, "Street Angel," the picture offering at the Howard theater this week, provides excellent amusement due largely to the clever acting of Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell.

The picture's effectiveness is heightened by the orchestral and vocal effects.

CLARA BOW WINS AGAIN IN PICTURE AT METROPOLITAN

Clara Bow, accompanied by the usual "it," appeared in another picture at the Metropolitan this week.

In line with her recent departure from comedies to the more dramatic art, she portrays an Apache girl in the diva of Paris. She is supported by Lou Tellegen and Donald Keith.

Keith, a second-rate thief, and Clara's lover, is caught in an attempted robbery of Tellegen's home. Tellegen, wealthy scientist, becomes interested in the youth and adopts him. He breaks up the boy's love affair, holding an Apache girl to be an ill-fitting partner for a man who will inherit millions.

Clara takes the proceeds of an Apache robbery and poses as an heiress. Just out of a convent, she meets Tellegen and in time they are married. Their honeymoon is broken by Clara's admission she married "for revenge, not love."

Then Keith, or Armand, as he is known in the show, appears. So do three Apaches who, irked at the loss of their share in the robbery, kidnap supposedly at Armand. Instead they hit Clara, who throws herself in front of her lover. Clara, of course, recovers.

Tellegen gives Clara a divorce. Jay C. Flippen sings several selections in a Vitaphone number entitled, "Ham, What Am I?" Edna Peabody and Jimmy Maiseur feature the other Vitaphone offering, "Banjo Land."

BLUE RIBBON BILL ATTRACTS THROGS TO KEITH'S GEORGIA

Responding to the popular acclaim that greeted the special show presented during "Appreciation Week" at Keith's Georgia theater, Manager C. R. Eggleston again brings to Atlanta one of the special attractions, Keith's "Blue Ribbon" productions. The bill at the Georgia this week combines one of the most exciting and amusing photoplays on the screen with a special vaudeville show that includes three separate headline acts.

Louise White, the black-face southern minstrel, heads his own company in a comedy skit "The Blackville National Guard," and gives a double turn of comedy dialogue and real minstrel singing. Harry Conley in "Slick As Ever," threatened to take the light from the feature show, but he never, and kept Monday audiences in an uproar over the adventures of a small town wise guy in the big city.

Walter McNally, the widely known Irish baritone, lived up to advance expectations, singing a group of popular and semi-classic numbers that marked him in a class by himself.

Supporting acts were of equally high caliber. LaSalle and Mack, the "strait nats," opened the show with some comedy that tumbled that has not been matched on that stage in a long while. Ed and May Ernie also showed real talent in their turn, in which the one-legged Ed executed several difficult tap dances.

"A Thief in the Dark," the current screen offering, is the latest and best of a growing series of mystery pictures.

—ROBERT H. WILSON.

"GARTER" COMEDY PROVES LAUGH HIT ON CAPITOL STAGE

Again Faye Hammond proved the hit of the week, in her portrayal of the "butler," in "Getting Gertie's Garter," at the Capitol theater, but this time Hammond is pushed to the limit by Miss Evelyn Napier, who plays the role of "Pattie."

"Getting Gertie's Garter," is a comedy filled with laughs and embarrassments, all created by the fact that Pattie's husband, played by Fred Reynolds, gave Gertie a pair of garters with his picture on them.

Since making the little gift all parties concerned marry and the excitement starts when Gertie plays Mary Farrell, tries to return the present to the giver on her wedding night. The greatest applause of the afternoon went to Leo Hampton, who rose from a balcony seat and sang two songs. The applause he received was just tribute to a real showman.

Hampton is an old star with the Eviston-Napier players, but for several months has been very ill, even now suffering quite a bit of pain and only with effort can he stand and render his songs. But, being a real showman, he sticks to that old axiom, "On With the Show," and does his bit with a smile.

forts offered by Movietone. Particularly did the working in of the song-tune "Angela Mia" elicits the applause of the audience.

Through her harrowing experiences in the toils of the law and her manifold vicissitudes Miss Gaylor as Angela petite Neapolitan, acts convincingly. She is particularly good in a scene in which she makes merry with her sweetheart while merrily, in the form of a policeman, waits just outside the door. As Gino, the big, curly-headed, lovable and foolish artist, Charles Farrell is consistently genuine and appealing.

The new master of ceremonies, Al Morey, showed his ability by keeping things running smoothly on the stage and at the same time did a little clowning which pleased the audience.

The show over which the new director presided was made further enjoyable by the efforts of Val and Stewart, collegiate "hoofers" of merit, and Harry Rose, a parambulating entertainer. Miss Dawn at the organ, and the Vitaphone songs and clapping act complete the bill.

—LEWIS HAWKINS.

CLARA BOW WINS AGAIN IN PICTURE AT METROPOLITAN

Clara Bow, accompanied by the usual "it," appeared in another picture at the Metropolitan this week.

In line with her recent departure from comedies to the more dramatic art, she portrays an Apache girl in the diva of Paris. She is supported by Lou Tellegen and Donald Keith.

Keith, a second-rate thief, and Clara's lover, is caught in an attempted robbery of Tellegen's home. Tellegen, wealthy scientist, becomes interested in the youth and adopts him. He breaks up the boy's love affair, holding an Apache girl to be an ill-fitting partner for a man who will inherit millions.

Clara takes the proceeds of an Apache robbery and poses as an heiress. Just out of a convent, she meets Tellegen and in time they are married. Their honeymoon is broken by Clara's admission she married "for revenge, not love."

Then Keith, or Armand, as he is known in the show, appears. So do three Apaches who, irked at the loss of their share in the robbery, kidnap supposedly at Armand. Instead they hit Clara, who throws herself in front of her lover. Clara, of course, recovers.

Tellegen gives Clara a divorce. Jay C. Flippen sings several selections in a Vitaphone number entitled, "Ham, What Am I?" Edna Peabody and Jimmy Maiseur feature the other Vitaphone offering, "Banjo Land."

BLUE RIBBON BILL ATTRACTS THROGS TO KEITH'S GEORGIA

Responding to the popular acclaim that greeted the special show presented during "Appreciation Week" at Keith's Georgia theater, Manager C. R. Eggleston again brings to Atlanta one of the special attractions, Keith's "Blue Ribbon" productions. The bill at the Georgia this week combines one of the most exciting and amusing photoplays on the screen with a special vaudeville show that includes three separate headline acts.

Louise White, the black-face southern minstrel, heads his own company in a comedy skit "The Blackville National Guard," and gives a double turn of comedy dialogue and real minstrel singing. Harry Conley in "Slick As Ever," threatened to take the light from the feature show, but he never, and kept Monday audiences in an uproar over the adventures of a small town wise guy in the big city.

Walter McNally, the widely known Irish baritone, lived up to advance expectations, singing a group of popular and semi-classic numbers that marked him in a class by himself.

Supporting acts were of equally high caliber. LaSalle and Mack, the "strait nats," opened the show with some comedy that tumbled that has not been matched on that stage in a long while. Ed and May Ernie also showed real talent in their turn, in which the one-legged Ed executed several difficult tap dances.

"A Thief in the Dark," the current screen offering, is the latest and best of a growing series of mystery pictures.

—ROBERT H. WILSON.

"GARTER" COMEDY PROVES LAUGH HIT ON CAPITOL STAGE

Again Faye Hammond proved the hit of the week, in her portrayal of the "butler," in "Getting Gertie's Garter," at the Capitol theater, but this time Hammond is pushed to the limit by Miss Evelyn Napier, who plays the role of "Pattie."

"Getting Gertie's Garter," is a comedy filled with laughs and embarrassments, all created by the fact that Pattie's husband, played by Fred Reynolds, gave Gertie a pair of garters with his picture on them.

Since making the little gift all parties concerned marry and the excitement starts when Gertie plays Mary Farrell, tries to return the present to the giver on her wedding night. The greatest applause of the afternoon went to Leo Hampton, who rose from a balcony seat and sang two songs. The applause he received was just tribute to a real showman.

Hampton is an old star with the Eviston-Napier players, but for several months has been very ill, even now suffering quite a bit of pain and only with effort can he stand and render his songs. But, being a real showman, he sticks to that old axiom, "On With the Show," and does his bit with a smile.

John Gilbert and Renee Adoree, is good entertainment because of the skill of the two artists. It is a war picture starring the pair who were the famous leads in "The Big Parade," and this picture will not rival that great production as an attraction. Gilbert takes a double part, playing the role of both hero and villain, and in so doing brings to mind "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," as he is, as always, at her best and to my mind that means she is without a peer, or perhaps "peeress" would be more proper.

AT THE THEATERS

VAUDEVILLE-PICTURES—LOEW'S GRAND—First acts: "The Mysterious Lady."

KEITH'S GEORGIA—First acts: "A Thief in the Dark."

PICTURES-STAGE SHOWS—HOWARD—"Street Angel," Al Morey presents "Dancing Feet."

VITAPHONE-MOVIE TONE—METROPOLITAN—"Parisian Love," Clara Bow.

RIALTO—"Lights of New York," first all-talking picture. (Held over.)

MOVIES—ALAMO No. 2—"The Sporting Lover," film, "Honor First."

TUDOR—"Dugout of the Dugout."

NEIGHBORHOOD MOVIES—DEKALB—"The Love Mart," film, "Honor First."

EMPIRE—"The Noose," film, "Honor First."

LAUREL—"A Woman's Way," film, "Honor First."

PONCE DE LEON—"Amateur Night," film, "Honor First."

TENTH STREET—"Resurrection," film, "Honor First."

WEST END—"Don Juan," film, "Honor First."

Empire.

Seldom has such a strong story been brought to the screen, and probably never with such marvelous players to enact the various roles, as is "The Noose," the latest offering of the Empire theater. Richard Barthelmess in the star and the supporting cast includes Alice Joyce, Lina Basquette and Montagu Love. Wednesday's screen feature is to be George Backeroff in "The Show Down."

Tenth Street.

Count Leo Tolstoy's immortal love drama, "Resurrection," is being shown for the last times today at the Tenth Street theater. Acclaimed as the greatest of the great Russian films, this tremendous epic of ruthless Russia under the Cossack lash will thrill and astound you.

Alamo No. 2.

The war plays a vital part in "The Sporting Lover," Conway Tearle's first picture, which comes today to the Alamo No. 2 theater.

Conway Tearle, an actor of Irish and Scotch descent, is a war as an officer in an English regiment. In a reckless mood he gambles away his entire estate and is sent to a military prison.

One of the most exciting episodes in the film shows a war hospital razed to the ground in an enemy raid.

Barbara Bedford plays opposite Tearle.

Cameo.

William Fox has released "Cameo Kirby," perpetuating the remarkable stage success by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson. With John Gilbert in the title role and Gertrude Olmstead in the feminine lead, the picture closes a two-day run at the Cameo theater today. The story centers about a picturesque Mississippi gambler of a former generation, who meets straight and deals squarely.

Tudor.

"Dugout of the Dugouts" will be shown at the Tudor for the last time today. This spectacular war drama offers to you many laughs and thrills. And the way young Dugout gets into trouble and gets out is a real novelty. Faced by a squad of soldiers young Dugout is about to be put to death for being a spy—until, you must see this war comedy-drama to appreciate it.

Ponce de Leon.

"The most popular feature of every week at our theater is amateur night on Tuesday," said Mr. Swint, of the Ponce de Leon.

"It is really surprising the wonderful talent we get from kiddies and grown-ups on these nights."

"From an amusement standpoint it is great, besides the really good dancing, singing and playing you will get some truly funny things."

The feature film for tonight is the Collegian cast in one of Universal's beautiful comedies, "The Fourflusher."

DAILY AIR SERVICE N. Y. TO WASHINGTON IS INAUGURATED

New York, August 6.—(AP)—Daily air service between New York and Washington, D. C., was announced today in advertisements by the United States Air Transport, Inc.

The fare, $30, is a substantial one, but it is a small price for the service, which will be made available three times a week, while the schedule time, two hours and fifteen minutes, is about half the time it takes to make the journey by train.

Broughams, sister ships to the "Spirit of St. Louis," designed to carry four passengers and express.

ADRIAN FORD BETTER, PHYSICIAN REPORT

A slight change for the better was seen Monday night in the condition of Adrian Ford, vice president of the Trust Company of Georgia, who was removed to a hospital Friday night in a critical condition following an accidental fall into a greasing pit at a downtown parking place for automobiles.

While Mr. Ford was severely bruised about the head, physicians say his skull was not fractured.

CONDITION OF FAIR DECLARED CRITICAL

The condition of Comer Fain, of Adamsville, brother of Police Chief Grover C. Fain, who was struck by an automobile driven by Judge Anton L. Etheridge, Saturday afternoon, was reported as critical late Monday night.

Six of Fain's ribs were fractured and pneumonia has developed. No case has been made against Judge Etheridge yet, but Captain Gordon said late Monday night that a formal charge of reckless driving would be made against him.

MRS. MARY COE DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Mary Danforth Coe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Danforth, of 1032 Howell Mill road, and sister of Ed Danforth, sports editor of the Atlanta Georgian, died early Monday morning following an extended illness.

Mrs. Coe was a native of Hopkinton, N. H., and had resided here in Atlanta several years ago. Her charm and personality won her a large circle of friends here.

Following final funeral ceremonies at the home late Monday afternoon the body was taken to Hopkinton, N. H., for interment.

INSURANCE BONDS SENT TO TOOMBS

St. Louis, August 6.—(AP)—The Post-Dispatch today said the $3,500,000 bonds now missing from assets of the International Life Insurance company, which was taken over by the state of Illinois, Chicago, June 20, according to a statement made by a company official who declined to permit use of his name.

The company official declared that the bonds were sent to Toombs only on his promise to pay cash for them and that the messenger who carried the bonds was instructed by the board of directors not to deliver them to Toombs unless he did pay cash for them.

The messenger returned without the bonds and reported, according to the company's statement, that Toombs had taken the securities from him and had said he would remit the money to the company that night. No such remittance was made, however, and the bonds, as stated by the state insurance examiners investigating the company's affairs, still are missing.

Toombs told the officers of the company later, according to the same informant, that the bonds had been deposited with a St. Louis bank, and that he would return them to the company, but that this process would take some time.

Toombs and other officers of the insurance company, have been given one week in which to produce $3,500,000 in securities or face a recommendation of criminal action by the insurance commissioners from different states, who are investigating the company.

Mystery surrounds the cause of the death of Lou Bennett, 30, of 850 North street, an elevator operator in the Citizens and Southern Bank building, who was found dead at the bottom of an elevator shaft Monday afternoon, by S. A. Tate, of 811 East Point avenue, East Point.

Bennett was missing from his home since Sunday afternoon, and his family had become alarmed by his absence overnight. Officers who are investigating this morning said Bennett was seen in the building Sunday afternoon.

The body showed that death had occurred several hours previous, and a coroner's jury will hold an inquest at Harry G. Poole's undertaking parlor, where the body was taken, at 9 o'clock this morning to determine how Bennett was killed. The body was badly crushed, showing that the victim fell, or was thrown from considerable height.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett; six sisters, Mrs. A. M. George and Misses Lella, Doris, Lillian, Helen and Carrie Bennett, and a brother, Feldon Bennett, all of Atlanta.

Mrs. Turner is survived by her husband, H. H. Turner, a prominent Atlanta attorney; five daughters, Misses Sarah, Jane, Tommy, Martha and Mary Turner; one son, H. H. Turner, Jr.; two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Prior, of Fitzgerald, Ga., and Mrs. J. D. Jenks, of Wilmington, N. C., and two brothers, G. E. Wilcox, of Atlanta, and E. E. Wilcox, of Augusta.

PLAYGROUND HEADS APPROVE PROGRAM FOR WHITE PARK

The municipal playground directors, at a meeting held Monday noon, at city hall, passed resolutions commending the action of the park committee of city council in ruling that the John A. White park, now under construction, is to combine all park features instead of being devoted exclusively to golf.

The resolution in full is as follows: Whereas, it has come to the attention of the municipal playground directors that the park committee of city council has approved the plan for a nine-hole golf course, picnic grounds, playground, tennis courts, baseball diamonds, athletic field; thereby providing a recreational area for the classes of youth and adults in the John A. White park.

There be it resolved by the municipal playground directors, at their regular meeting, that we endorse the action of the park committee, and commend them for providing an all-round recreation park, for the following reasons:

1. That during the year 1927 the playground opened for ten weeks, and during this period 200,800 children were entertained on the playground, against 78,658 persons who played the golf courses during the entire year. This is four times as many children on the playgrounds as on the golf courses over the entire year.

2. That during the 20 weeks the playground was open, 58,771 children enjoyed a ride, against 18,658 golfers who played on the municipal golf courses during the entire year.

3. That during the 12 weeks the municipal swimming pools were open to the public, 375,000 children were bathing against 78,658 golfers who played on the golf courses the entire year.

4. The shore does not include the tennis players and baseball players, and other forms of recreation where no statistics are available.

5. We think that a park should be developed so as to give recreation for all classes, and not for any particular one, and that such a park should be given the right of way over all.

The Day in Finance

By R. L. BARNUM

New York, August 6.—Stocks were active and higher on easier call money, the renewal rate being six per cent against Friday's seven and eight around the middle of last week. There was considerable short covering in General Motors on the half year statement of the General Motors Acceptance Corporation showing net profits of $5,223,000 or $14.92 a share on the 350,000 shares of stock all of which is owned by General Motors against $3,197,000 or $9.13 a share for the first half of 1927. The company also reports employees on June 30 at a new high of 209,000 against 195,000 at the beginning of this year, 190,000 a year ago, 108,000 two years ago and 82,000 June 30, 1925. The coming directors' meeting was also a factor.

Movie shares were influenced by the split up of three shares for one declared by Paramount Famous Lasky. Atlantic Refining sold off on the split up of shares for one announced at the close of last week, selling down over ten points from the recent high.

Wheat had another break. A couple of months ago when July was strong, selling around $1.73 a bushel, traders were talking $2 wheat. Now, with the outlook for a big crop here and in Canada they are talking $1 wheat. The chances are that two months from now these traders will be just as wrong as they were two months ago. Chrysler was strong again. This company holds a strong position in the car business and cash. There are three or four pools operating in the stock, one made up of interests connected with a powerful Wall Street bank.

July Sales Increase. Woolworth's July sales were $20,592,000, up 2.08 per cent compared with a year ago, against $145,800,000 for the seven months, a gain of 61.2 per cent. Montgomery Ward shares were again in good demand. The company last named is expected to earn between $16 and $18 a share this year, against Woolworth's $11. Traders are making a comparison between the market value of Montgomery Ward and Woolworth. W. C. Durant is going abroad the end of this month for another vacation, he says. "In my opinion credit conditions will not interfere with a continuation of the upward trend in sound stocks."

Lowering of Call Money Rate Aids Advance Movement in Stocks Despite Effort To Curb Speculation—Chrysler Again Demonstrates Strong Market Position.

Trading in bonds is at the lowest level since July of 1918 with the average price of 100 bonds down 6.82 points from the year's high made in May. This is a sensational break in the bond market. A prolonged drop of from 3 to 4 points in the average price of bonds is considered a major movement. There has been selling of bonds by banks to pay off borrowings from the federal reserve; also selling by institutions and individuals with the funds thus raised used in the call money market where the interest rate is much higher than the income return on bonds. Discussing the action taken by New York banks to curtail lending in the call money market by corporations and individuals President Reynolds of the Chicago Continental National Bank and Trust company, the largest bank in the west, says: "There is no doubt but that an uncomfortable feeling has been created by New York banks to curtail lending in the call money market by corporations and individuals."

Reynolds does not believe the restrictions just placed by New York banks on loans made in the call money market by corporations and individuals will work.

In May when the stock market was booming, John J. Raskob, then chairman of General Motors finance committee, predicted that earnings for the half year would make a new high record. That prediction made good sense, disclosing widespread rumors of a stock dividend when the directors were to hold their meeting on August 9, Raskob said: "It is more advantageous to have General Motors shares sell on a lower level which insures better distribution to stockholders." Adding, however, "It is anything but certain just what action will be taken." That was two months ago. Wall Street is still guessing what the General Motors directors will do.

MRS. MARY MAYSON SUCCUMBS MONDAY TO BRIEF ILLNESS

Mrs. Mary Mayson, 53, of 1074 DeKalb avenue, wife of E. L. Mayson, veteran engineer on the Georgia railroad, died early Monday following an illness of only a few days caused by an acute attack of indigestion.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hamilton, prominent citizens of Rockdale, but came to Atlanta 37 years ago and had made this her home continuously since that time. Mrs. Mayson was an active member of the Atlanta auxiliary, division 195, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and a member of the Inman Park Baptist church.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon from the Inman Park Baptist church and interment will be in Decatur cemetery.

Mrs. Mayson is survived by her at the meeting which will be held this coming Thursday. A large stock dividend would get the price of the shares down, insuring a wider distribution and would also remove bank loan envelope restrictions which are working hardships to large shareholders desiring to borrow against the bonds. General Motors could declare a large stock dividend and continue on a basis of existing earnings to pay the regular annual 5 per cent dividend with extras.

hobby; one daughter, Mrs. J. H. Wilson; two grandsons, Joe, Jr., and John Wilson; her mother, Mrs. G. W. W. and G. L. Hamilton, of Atlanta, and one sister, Mrs. A. F. Ainslie, also of Atlanta.
